India kills the US with tariffs and the country has now offered "no tariffs" to America, President Donald Trump has said, amid New Delhi's escalating tensions with Washington over his policies on trade and tariffs. 5% & 18%: Just two GST slabs from September 22

5% tax for daily use items; no GST for individual health, life insurance

PUSHPITA DEY & DIPAK MONDAL @New Delhi

THE 56th GST Council meeting held here on Wednesday cleared all the proposed changes in the Goods and Services Tax (GST), including the two-rate tax structure. Taxes on most daily use items, which were earlier in the 18% and 12% slabs, have been cut to 5%. Many goods in the 28% slab were also brought down to 18%. All these rates will come into effect from September 22.

Addressing the media after the meeting that went past 9 pm, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said efforts have been made to not just reduce the rates on items for the common man but also ease the compliance burden for businesses.

"We have corrected inverted duty structure problems, resolved classification-related issues, and ensured stability and predictability in GST. There has been a rationalisation of rates—slabs have been reduced to just two. We are also addressing issues of compensation cess, simplifying registration, return filing, and refunds," the finance minister said.

Goods which have moved to the 5% slab from 18% or 12% rates include hair oil, toilet soaps, shampoos, toothbrushes, toothpaste, bicycles, tableware, kitchenware, and other household articles.

Many food items including namkeen, bhujia, sauces, pasta, instant noodles, chocolates, coffee, preserved meat, corn flakes, butter, ghee, etc have also been put under 5% slab from the existing 12% or 18%.

The rates on middle-class aspirational goods such as washing machines, TVs (all sizes now at 18%), small cars, motorcycles up to 350cc have been reduced from 28% to 18%.

Taxes on agriculture goods such as tractors, horticultural and forestry machines, harvesting/threshing machines, composting machines, etc have been cut from 12% to 5%.

Premium on individual health and life insurance have been cut to zero from 18%. Rates on 33 life-saving drugs and medicines have also been cut to zero; several others medicines have been reduced from 12% or 5% to zero.

There will be a special rate of 40% for sin and super-luxury goods, including caffeinated or flavoured carbonated beverages with added sugar.

Welcoming the decisions, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said: "The wide ranging reforms will improve lives of our citizens and ensure ease of doing business for all, especially small traders and businesses."

The overall revenue loss to the government is calculated to be around ₹47,700 crore.

Not just GST rate rationalisation, this is structural reform, easing compliance

Peace talks with Kuki-Zo inconclusive

MUKESH RANJAN @New Delhi

AHEAD of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's expected visit to the ethnic violence-hit state of Manipur later this month, the Union home ministry held a meeting on Wednesday with representatives of the Kuki-Zo insurgent groups and the Manipur government to finalise the terms for renewing the Suspension of Operation (SoO) pact, sources said.

However, they maintained that there was "no concrete outcome" and that a fresh round of talks would take place, with the date and venue to be decided later. Sources said the ministry's Northeast adviser, A K Mishra and Intelligence Bureau officials held discussions with representatives of the Kuki-Zo insurgent groups.

It is worth noting that the SoO pact, originally signed in August 2008, has been a cornerstone in reducing hostilities between Kuki-Zo armed groups and security forces. However, its renewal was halted after ethnic violence erupted between the Kuki and Meitei communities in May 2023, leaving Manipur deeply fractured.

Many in the corridors of power believe that extending the SoO pact could be one of the most important confidence-building measures in the troubled state. Sources indicated that if the prime minister visits Manipur in the second or third week of this month, the renewal of the SoO pact could signal a significant outreach to the tribal Kuki-Zo community and is viewed as a step towards restoring normality.

The ministry resumed talks with the Kuki-Zo SoO groups on June 9 this year after a two-year hiatus to renegotiate the SoO pact under stricter ground rules. One of the conditions includes reducing the number of SoO camps from 14 to seven, relocating them away from Meitei-dominated areas.

ROAD RAGE KILLS ELDERLY MAN IN CITY, 2 ARRESTED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN a road rage incident in Bengaluru, a 61-year-old man, who was being rushed to a hospital by his family, died of a possible heart attack after he was pushed by two people, who had parked their two-wheeler on the road, blocking the way for the car carrying him to the hospital.

The incident occurred outside a private hospital on Devegowda Road in the RT Nagar police limits around 1.30 am on Wednesday. The two accused, a man and his female friend, were arrested by the police later in the day on charges of culpable homicide not amounting to murder. The deceased, Syed Nisar Ahmed (61), was a resident of Kauser Nagar. In the incident, his son sustained a ligament injury. The accused are Abdul Shariff (30), a resident of Hebbal and a delivery executive, and his friend Tehreen Fathima (26), a resident of JC Nagar.

Ahmed, who was unwell, was being taken to the hospital by his son and son-in-law around 1.30 am on Wednesday. Just 100 metres away from the hospital, Shariff had parked his two-wheeler, allegedly blocking the road. He and Fatheema were talking on the roadside.

When Ahmed's son asked them to move the vehicle, a quarrel broke out. As the heated argument escalated, the duo allegedly assaulted Ahmed and his son. Shariff is said to have placed his hand on Ahmed's chest and pushed. Ahmed collapsed on the road and was rushed to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

The doctors said Ahmed might have died of a heart attack, but the exact reason would be known after the postmortem.

Fadnavis, Rupala lead race for BJP national president's post

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

As the BJP prepares to elect its new president, names of Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis and former Union minister from Gujarat, Parshottam Khodabhai Rupala, emerged as top contenders for the hot seat along with that of Union Minister for Education Dharmendra Pradhan.

According to informed sources, who didn't wish to be named, Fadnavis has been given a heads-up that he may be asked to step down as CM after the Bihar elections. "The message has been conveyed but there is no discussion yet on his future role. He is likely to be considered for the BJP chief post. He is young, has the support of the RSS and the confidence of the party leadership," said sources.

Though Rupala is a new entrant into the list, his candidature gained traction as he too is backed by the RSS and is said to be trusted by the party top brass. His proximity to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, when he was Gujarat chief minister, is well known.

Rupala's anti-Kshatriya comments during Parliament elections in 2024 did cast a cloud on his political career but he is a "loyalist, and a trusted conduit between the Sangh and the party leadership", said sources.

The name of Dharmendra Pradhan continues to be among the contenders. His late father Dr Debendra Pradhan was a life member of the RSS and had joined the BJP in 1980.

The party needs to undergo an organisational overhaul in at least 50% of its 37 organisational state units to constitute the electoral college before it can begin the process of electing its national president. Since its inception, the BJP has always chosen a consensus candidate as its president in 'coordination' with the RSS.

RVD's comment on woman journo slammed

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @Uttara Kannada/Bengaluru

ONE of the senior-most Congress MLAs, RV Deshpande, created a controversy when a woman journalist questioned him about a long-pending demand of setting up a multi-speciality hospital in Uttara Kannada, by telling her that she need not worry as they will get her delivery done elsewhere.

His statement drew sharp criticism from opposition parties and journalist associations, demanding that he apologise.

Uttara Kannada BJP president NS Hegde said, "District women's wing members are staging a massive protest at Haliyal on Friday.

Party workers from Bengaluru too will take part."

The incident occurred recently when a Joida-based Bengaluru woman TV journalist questioned Deshpande about the hospital, to which the senior leader allegedly replied, "We will ensure you a safe delivery."

When contacted, Deshpande said his statement has been misunderstood by people. "I know the lady journalist for several years. What I said was in lighter vein. I am the last person to disrespect a woman. She is from Ganeshgudi. I know her very well. I have spoken to her with respect," he said.

When pointed to the BJP protest on Friday, he said the opposition party is trying to politicise the issue.

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar said Rs 300 crore will be released for the administration of the five new city corporations under Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA).

Addressing the media after unveiling the nameboard of the GBA office on Wednesday, he said, "Bhoomi Puja will be held on November 1 for the new offices of the five corporations. Towers will be constructed in the borders of all corporations."

Approval has been given to depute 500 engineers to look after the road and administrative aspects in each corporation. "About Rs 300 crore will be released for the administrative expenses, salaries and pensions," he said.

"Two IAS officers, one KAS, two chief engineers and necessary office staff will work in each corporation. The corporations will take governance to the doorstep of people. Work will include identifying roads, drains and other things under the jurisdiction of the respective corporations," he said.

Asked about including new areas in the jurisdiction of the five corporations, he said the merger of other areas can be thought of in the future.

On the responsibilities of the new commissioners, he said, "The new commissioners have to work among the people. The GBA commissioner is inspecting footpaths, water, roads and other works. They have to work for 17-18 hours a day. That is why young officers have been assigned along with senior officers."

Maheshwar Rao will function as the chief commissioner and administrative officer of the GBA until the elections are held. As many as 75 members have been appointed to the committee of the authority, he said. "Bengaluru's problems will not be solved overnight but we are confident that we will solve them in the coming days. We will work well on drinking water, potholes, and traffic congestion," he added.

₹5L for office designs

DK Shivakumar said, "Citizens and architects can suggest how the corporation offices should be designed. They can also provide designs. The best three or five designs will be selected. A prize of Rs 5 lakh will be given for this."

Authority in work mode, starts providing e-office login to staff

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A DAY after the Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) came into existence, the process of providing e-office logins to all the five new city corporations has started.

GBA Chief Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao has advised officials to speed up planning, programmes and commercial activities. "Tax collection will take place, and issues related to banking will be sorted in a day or two. Instructions have been given to change the nameboards in the respective corporations," he told reporters on Wednesday.

Nodal officers will be appointed to handover files, documents and registration books among others to the respective corporations. Online services and QR codes have been introduced for public awareness.

Rao said election needs to be held for the five municipal corporations under the GBA and officials have been instructed to take up the election processes. He has directed officials of respective corporations to complete works, including the ward delimitation process, quickly.

The issue to potholes on city roads is being looked at seriously and work will soon start on fixing them in a phased manner, he said.

"As per the directions of the Greater Bengaluru Authority, a committee has been formed. In the first phase of handing over works, centralised departments will prepare a list of budget- and package-wise works in progress, action plans approved and ongoing works, and transfer them to GBA or B-SMILE," said Rao. He said the processes have begun and it will take some time to complete them.

Heritage site tag for Cantt rly land? Public response sought

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Biodiversity Board (KBB) has proposed that the Railway Cantonment Colony land, which made headlines following severe opposition from residents to the axing of 368 mature trees for a commercial project, be declared a Biodiversity Heritage Site.

Residents of Vasanth Nagar and surrounding areas as well as environmentalists had strongly opposed the proposal of the Railway Land Development Authority constructing three commercial buildings on the land.

They had also alleged that last year, when South Western Railways (SWR) had undertaken the Cantonment station upgradation work and improved the entrance, 2,500 trees were axed. But Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) had not documented them in their database back then.

To declare the 8 acres of land as a Biodiversity Heritage Site, the KBB has sought the opinion of people and all stakeholders. The proposal notification was issued on September 1, 2025, under Section 37(1) of the Biodiversity Act, 2002, and Rule 20 of the Karnataka Biodiversity Rules, 2005.

Deputy Conservator of Forests Govardhan Singh said the trees are of varied species, including sandalwood, teak and many native varieties. Some are very old. The age and species is being documented. The proposed land belongs the SWR.

In June 2025, Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre had visited the site and said that no tree felling should be done till further orders. The idea to declare the area as a heritage site was also discussed back then.

While environmentalists and citizens are delighted with the idea, they point to the legal aspects. Raj Duggar from Citizen for Citizens, who was also instrumental in planting many trees in the locality, said the land belongs to the central government and the proposal to declare the site as heritage is by the state government.

Besides, the Railways has also said that the cost incurred from commercialising the land (around Rs 462 crore) will be used for the construction of the Sub-urban Rail Project.

Activists pointed out that the land presently houses railway staffers.

The SWR has drawn a project to shift all residents to the MG Railway Colony, behind City Railway Station, and use the land for commercial purposes. Meanwhile, trees in MG Colony are also being axed.

Brace for thundershowers, rain till this weekend

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BENGALURU is in for a week of intermittent rain, thundershowers and cloudy skies. The city and surrounding areas are expected to get light to moderate showers every day until Sunday, with gusty winds likely on some days, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) predicted on Wednesday.

In the past 24 hours, Bengaluru Urban recorded a maximum temperature of 26.7 degree Celsius and minimum of 20 degree Celsius. Bengaluru Rural saw a maximum of 27.7 degree Celsius and 2.8mm of rain. Both areas reported drizzle and light rain.

As per the IMD, light to moderate rain and thundershowers with gusty winds (40-50 kmph) are likely to occur at a few places, including Ballari, Bengaluru Rural, Bengaluru Urban, Chamarajanagar and Shivamogga, among other districts. Coastal Karnataka will also come under heavy rain at one or two places in Dakshina Kannada, Udupi and Uttara Kannada districts.

The rain is due to a well-marked low-pressure system over northwest Bay of Bengal, off the Odisha coast. This system, along with a cyclonic circulation extending up to 7.6km above sea level, is moving inland towards Jharkhand and Chhattisgarh. The associated monsoon trough is passing through central India, keeping rainfall active in Karnataka.

Forecast for Bengaluru

SEPT 4: Cloudy skies with light to moderate rain or thundershowers, gusty winds likely

SEPT 5–7: Cloudy skies with light to moderate rain; temperatures in 20-29 degrees Celsius range

Sub-panel will probe violations in NICE Road project, says Dr G

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ BENGALURU:

HOME Minister Dr G Parameshwara on Tuesday revealed that the controversial NICE Road project may have breached legal provisions of the original framework agreement, and defended the formation of a cabinet sub-committee to investigate it.

Addressing the media, Parameshwara admitted, "The agreement was for transparency, but there may have been efforts to violate it in the past which needs to be looked into." The state had allotted land at concessional rates, but issues around land misuse, toll agreements and incomplete construction are now under scrutiny.

The NICE project, part of the Bengaluru-Mysuru Infrastructure Corridor (BMIC) conceived in the 1990s, has seen only 5km of the planned 9km stretch completed in one segment. Divided into A, B and C sections, the stretch till Bidadi falls under Section A, while the peripheral road is also covered in Section A of the framework agreement. Parameshwara revealed that the state is dealing with over 300 court cases on this issue, including 100 in the High Court and many pending in the Supreme Court. "We have a strong legal team and have brought the number down by 70 cases," he added.

He defended the sub-committee's mandate to examine the legality of the project, compensation and land use violations. On the politically sensitive issue of farmers' compensation, he clarified that while oral assurances were given, these were not part of the official framework.

Separately, Parameshwara addressed concerns over a religious event scheduled for Saturday, saying foreigners cannot preach or participate in such functions under Indian law. Police and the Foreigners Regional Registration Office (FRRO) have informed organisers of the restrictions. Taking a veiled dig at the opposition, he said, "They have responsibility, but the government has ten times more."

With calls to reclaim land, recover tolls and possibly scrap the project, the cabinet panel's findings could reshape one of Karnataka's most controversial infrastructure ventures.

Daily Starscope

04th September : The Sun and Moon are soon to encounter each other in a fascinating alignment. It's less a moment for making forecasts and more a time for us all to work out what we want to do next. Granted, we're not as free as many of us would like, but there is still much that we can achieve if only we'd put our minds to it.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The stars are in a generally independent mood. There is no point in hoping that business associates will help you get your own way. And even if they do offer, you would be right to be a little sceptical, for this is one of those times when you should trust only yourself.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Pluto has once again been making waves; so it follows that what proves traumatic for other people, may be highly profitable and satisfactory for you. An opening at work will prove hugely tempting, but you should pause for careful thought before you act.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Today's planetary pattern is reasonably relaxed, so you may have an easier ride than usual. As long as you take other people's hopes and wishes into account, you may meet challenges head-on, hopefully demonstrating your new-found wisdom and maturity.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Personal affairs take priority now, and planetary activity affecting your sign over the next week signifies a change in your approach to a particular relationship. Much now depends on your willingness to compromise for, believe it or not, others have much to teach you!

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
You might hope that your orders will be obeyed, but children and younger relations will expect you to meet them half way. You'd better consider your position carefully, if only because the last thing you want right now is a falling-out over matters which you'd thought were signed and sealed.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your main concern at work will be to be paid what you're worth. To turn to social affairs though, it looks as if gatherings that take place over the next fortnight will be all the more enjoyable if they are out of the ordinary. Take this into account when making your plans and you won't be sorry!

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You've been giving some extra attention to the future. If you don't talk about your proposals now, you may have to wait for another month. It's especially important to consider the next step at home, and make sure that partners both understand and agree with your wishes.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your long-term stars are profoundly unsettling - in a positive sense - while today's planets can be somewhat extravagant. It therefore stands to reason that the best way to forget your troubles may be to go all out and splash some funds on a well-deserved treat or two.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The Moon, a friendly factor, indicating that what is now truly important is that you permit yourself to release your feelings. Everything that has been held in, bottled up and generally ignored, should now be brought into the light of day. That's probably the best way to defuse major emotional tensions.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Fears that someone is out to get you may owe more to your vivid imagination than to any real threat. In any case, you've been doing well enough lately to realise that you can stand on your own two feet regardless of what other people say or do. That knowledge should be enough to lift your confidence.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You were born to be a free thinker and one of your great gifts is to devise original solutions to ancient questions. It may therefore be galling if people are pinching your ideas. Be patient and work out how to make sure you receive the proper respect next time round.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You appear to be making mountains out of molehills, especially where money is concerned. You are generous to a fault, but the moment you begin to feel that you are being exploited, then resentment may take over. This is precisely why you should exercise a little commonsense.

COPS ARREST DOC, 2 OTHERS FOR SELLING INFANT IN M'LURU

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

UDUPI police unearthed an illegal child procurement racket involving a couple from Kallugudde in Heruru of Kaup taluk and three others, including a doctor. The case surfaced when the couple attempted to register a four-day-old infant at an anganwadi centre under Poshan Tracker scheme, arousing suspicion.

The anganwadi worker alerted the Child Development Project Office (CDPO) staff, who in turn lodged a complaint at Shirva police station on August 21. Police said Prabhavati and her husband Ramesh Moolya, unable to bear children, had procured the girl, born on August 3 at Colaco Hospital, Mangaluru, by falsely claiming her as their own.

Probe revealed that the couple's relative Priyanka had introduced them to Vijayalakshmi alias Vijaya, who ran a paying guest facility in Mangaluru. A 22 year old woman, a rape survivor with mental health issues who was staying there, had become pregnant after being sexually assaulted by a man known to her.

She was brought to the PG during her pregnancy as her mother worked there. The accused Navaneeth Narayan (25) was arrested.

Police said that Vijayalakshmi, in collusion with Dr Somesh Solomon, who runs a polyclinic in BC Road, hatched a plan to sell the infant to the Shirva couple. During a follow-up scan at six months, Aadhaar card details of Ramesh and Prabhavati were used, and Prabhavati's Aadhaar card was given for hospital records. The baby was delivered by Caesarean section at Colaco Hospital, and later handed over to the couple.

Dr Somesh and Vijayalakshmi were allegedly paid Rs 4.6 lakh for arranging the illegal deal. Investigations revealed that the mother was discharged without proper care. She has since been admitted to hospital with police assistance. Police arrested Dr Somesh, Vijayalakshmi and Navaneeth for their role in the crime. The couple is cooperating with the investigation, while Priyanka has also been questioned. Vijayalakshmi was involved in similar activities earlier.

A case was registered under section 81 of the Juvenile Justice Act, 2016, and Sections 143(4), 61, 64 and 3(5) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS), 2023.

Govt to begin heart health scheme for auto, cab drivers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

HEALTH and Family Welfare Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao has revealed that the government will soon roll out a health scheme aimed at auto and cab drivers. The programme will offer free tests for blood sugar, blood pressure (BP), treadmill (TMT), and echocardiogram (echo) to monitor their health.

"This will help us identify those at risk of heart attacks early and provide timely care," said Rao, while attending a media workshop conducted on Hypertension on Wednesday. The announcement comes in light of the growing burden of hypertension in Karnataka.

"Discussions are being held with the Education Department to include health and quality lifestyle education for children in the school curriculum," he said. Rao emphasised that hypertension is a silent epidemic, contributing to strokes, heart attacks, kidney failure, and premature deaths.

"Hypertension is now seen even among children below 18 years. Excess use of salt in food, tobacco consumption, lack of activity, etc, are the major causes for this. By the time children reach youth, hypertension is likely to severely affect their health," said Dr US Vishal Rao, president of Indian Policy Research. The government plans to expand community-level screening under the National Programme for Prevention and Control of Cancer, Diabetes, Cardiovascular Diseases and Stroke (NPCDCS), ensure availability of medicines at all Health & Wellness Centres, and run awareness campaigns promoting healthy lifestyles.

According to the National Family Health Survey (NFHS-5, 2019-20), one in four adults in the state suffers from high blood pressure.

THE Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) on Wednesday issued an order to fix the revised reservation for the direct recruitment to fill vacancies in the state civil services, clearing the deck for the implementation of internal reservation for 101 Scheduled Caste (SC) communities following the government's order on August 25.

Recruitments had been frozen for over a year waiting for the government's decision on internal quota for SCs. The order has been published in the state gazette.

The DPAR order relieved aspirants aiming to join state government services. The DPAR order stated that 43 departments can start recruitments in a phased manner to fill around 2.76 lakh vacancies. Around 25,000-40,000 posts will be filled in the first phase. The priority are the health, education, and revenue departments.

The Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC) and Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) will initiate the process.

The DPAR order made it clear that the roster for the 17% SC quota should be maintained with 6% each for category A, comprising SC Left (Madigas) and related castes, 6% to category B, comprising SC Right (Chalavadi), and 5% to category C, comprising Bhovis, Lambanis, Korachas, Koramas, and 59 nomadic communities. The DPAR order is applicable in education facilities too, especially for professional courses like medicine, engineering, and agricultural sciences, with the respective categories getting their due share.

Earlier, the 101 SC castes were under one category. While some castes had a lion's share of the benefits of reservation, the marginalised were left in the lurch. Even under the new reservation matrix, the 59 nomadic SC 'most backward' castes are unhappy that they are placed in category C, which comprises the four 'least backward' castes.

The Justice HN Nagamohan Das Commission, which looked into SC internal reservation, had formed five categories — A, B, C, D, and E — and proposed 6% for SC Left, 5% for SC Right, 4% for Lambanis, Koramas, Korachas, and Bhovis, 1% for nomadic tribes, and 1% for Adi Karnataka, Adi Dravida, and Adi Andhra, but the Cabinet adopted a slightly altered formula and categorised them into three categories — A, B, and C.

CM under pressure as SC nomadic castes plan to move court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state cabinet which meets here on Thursday is under pressure over the issue of internal reservation for Scheduled Caste (SC) communities as 59 nomadic castes are likely to move court if the government does not pay heed to their demand for a separate 1 per cent quota recommended to them by the Justice HN Nagamohan Das Commission.

In the last cabinet meeting, the Commission's recommendation to form five categories among the 101 castes as A, B, C, D and E was revised to three as A, B and C.

Thousands of members of the nomadic SC castes who arrived from across the state held a huge rally at Freedom Park on Wednesday. They objected to putting them in the category C among the less backward SC castes Bhovi, Lambani, Koracha and Korama.

Meanwhile, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's economic advisor Basavaraj Rayareddy has reportedly favoured their demand for 1 per cent and assured to get it done.

Meanwhile, former minister H Anjaneya urged the CM to ensure that the court does not stay the internal reservation move at the instance of the nomadic SC castes.

The BJP SC community leaders said the recommendation of the Commission should be implemented in toto.

The CM's cabinet colleagues KH Muniyappa, RB Thimmapur, Dr G Parameshwara, Priyank Kharge, Dr HC Mahadevappa and Shivaraj Thangadagi, who hail from different SC castes, are likely to discuss the issue.

Meanwhile, constitutional expert HV Manjunatha, and advocate, Karnataka High Court, slammed the government's decision.

"Providing an internal quota in reservation on the basis of inter se backwardness is a step forward towards equality. However, the decision of the government is an act of complete destruction of the concept of internal reservation. Also it's a clear violation of guidelines set out by the Supreme Court of India on Aug.8, 2024 in the State of Punjab & Others versus Davinder Singh & Others," said constitutional expert HV Manjunatha, Advocate, Karnataka High Court.

"The cabinet has ignored inter se backwardness as identified by Justice HN Nagamohan Das Commission while sub categorising SCs into three groups as A,B and C while slicing the reservation. Thereby, the state has committed a historical blunder", he alleged.

US tariff row: Gowda praises Modi for his 'multi-alignment' approach

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FORMER Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda on Wednesday wrote to PM Narendra Modi hailing his approach of actively pursuing alternatives after the United States started an "unreasonable and unjust tariff war".

Praising Modi's policy of "multi-alignment" saying it is bound to offer rich dividends in the near future, Gowda said, "I am relieved like millions of Indians that you have been actively pursuing alternatives after the United States started an unreasonable and unjust tariff war."

Calling Modi's recent visit to Japan and China a success, Gowda said India will reap the benefits of the former's negotiations and new initiatives.

"United States, too, will have to come around soon than later because dharma is on our side and our nation offers a combination of economic, demographic and democratic advantage like no other in the world," the JDS patriarch added.

Gowda said that photographs and videos of Modi with Russian President Vladimir Putin and President Xi Jinping that have flooded the media across the globe communicated something beyond routine bonhomie and friendship between heads of state. It symbolised a new awakening and perhaps the new beginning of a new world order that will put India in the middle of global prosperity and peace, the former PM said.

Gowda also said that he is glad that Modi spoke to Putin about ending the war in Ukraine. "You have been consistent on this issue and am sure India's words are taken far more seriously in this regard for the sincerity it is filled with and the values it had represented historically," he added.

"We should interact with the world as per our needs, on our terms but with also enormous civilisational grace that we possess. That will make India stand out," Gowda added.

As long as Siddu is there, I will be with Cong: Rajanna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Tumakuru/Bengaluru

AS the political slugfest between former cooperation minister KN Rajanna and Magadi MLA HC Balakrishna continued, the former on Wednesday said that he can win the polls even if he contests as an independent.

"I will win no matter which party I contest the election from. I will win even if I stand as an independent", Rajanna said on Wednesday.

Rajanna's statement has gained significance amid speculation that he will join the BJP after being dismissed from the ministerial post.

"Why should I join the BJP? Let those who wish to join the BJP do so. I have the power to win no matter which party I contest from. Why should I quit the Congress? What has the party done to me? I have the power to get any one elected or defeated in every constituency (in Tumakuru district),"Rajanna said while addressing public at Kodigenahalli in his Madhugiri Assembly constituency.

"As long as Siddaramaiah is the Chief Minister and leads the party, there is no problem with my future. I will continue to maintain my love and trust as long as he is at the party," he said. "I will not leave the Congress for any reason. I support the vote theft campaign being waged by Rahul Gandhi. There are discussions about my supporters visiting Delhi in large numbers to demand that I be made a minister again," he said.

Balakrishna on Tuesday had said that Rajanna is in touch with the BJP leaders and will join the saffron party. Rajanna's MLC son Rajendra alleged that there was a conspiracy behind his father's dismissal from the Cabinet.

Hitting back, Balakrishna alleged that Rajanna and Rajendra were passing the buck indirectly on to Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar.

"Rajanna went berserk as he criticised Rahul Gandhi indirectly, also the AICC general secretary state in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala and paid the price," he said.

Meanwhile, former MP DK Suresh on Wednesday said that Rajanna has become a national leader.

Direct netas to maintain dignity: Forum to CM

The demand for the construction of a super-speciality hospital has been there for several years. It snowballed into a people's movement in 2022 after an accident at Shiroor of Kundapur taluk in Udupi district.

During the previous BJP government, then chief minister Basavaraj Bommai had made a budgetary announcement on constructing the hospital, but no place or fund was allocated for it. The present Congress government has stated that the hospital is not feasible.

The Karnataka Women Journalists' Association condemned Deshpande's statement and demanded an apology to the woman journalist in particular and the media fraternity in general.

The association demanded that the CM direct all legislators and leaders to maintain dignity, respect, and decorum in public life. "It must be remembered that every question posed by a journalist reflects the concerns of citizens of Karnataka, who have placed their trust in elected representatives. To belittle, dismiss, or insult a journalist is to show disregard for the very people who have voted legislators to power," the association stated in its press statement. Even the Karnataka Union of Working Journalists condemned Deshpande's statement.

BJP state president BY Vijayendra said the statement is not befitting Deshpande's age, experience and dignity.

Cong government committed to implementing UKP III: Shivakumar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE State Government will take a decision on the phase 3 of the Upper Krishna Project soon, said Deputy Chief Minister and Water Resource Minister DK Shivakumar.

"We have held three or four rounds of discussions to find solutions regarding land acquisition, rehabilitation, reconstruction, land compensation," he said. On Wednesday, Shivakumar took part in the UKP-II review meeting. He told reporters that he has appealed to Union Jal Shakthi Minister to implement the project. "We are committed to implement this project," he said.

It is learnt that Shivakumar warned his cabinet colleague and excise minister RB Thimmapur over the issue of compensation. Thimmapur said the government should enhance compensation to Rs 50 lakh per acre. "Mind you, being a minister you cannot talk like this. When Basavaraj Bommai was CM the rate was fixed at Rs 24 lakh per acre per acre for irrigated land and Rs 20 lakh per acre for non-irrigated land and, giving respect to you, it has been enhanced a bit. It cannot be hiked to Rs 50 lakh," he said.

The DCM said the farmers have not agreed on compensation and the court has ordered to increase compensation.

Shivakumar, however, said they may not be able to pay higher compensation. "The issue was discussed in our Cabinet meeting. We shall take farmers, all party leaders and others into confidence and take up this project. Farmers in Vijayapura have said they will oblige if the compensation is fair," he said.

Shivakumar has informed the CM about the meeting held on Wednesday at Vidhana Soudha. This will also be discussed in the Cabinet meeting on Thursday.

KAVITHA QUITS, SAYS COUSINS PLOTTING TO CONTROL BRS

MANDA RAVINDER REDDY @Hyderabad

A day after her suspension, Kalvakuntla Kavitha on Wednesday parted ways with the party her father K Chandrasekhar Rao founded. While announcing her resignation from the BRS as well as the Legislative Council, Kavitha advised her father and brother to be beware of her cousins T Harish Rao and J Santosh Kumar who she alleged want to wrest control of the BRS.

Kavitha said she would not join any political party immediately and would decide on her future course of action after consulting Telangana Jagruthi activists and Telangana intellectuals.

In a press conference, she launched a strong attack on her cousins T Harish Rao and J Santosh Kumar, alleging that they conspired to wrest control of the BRS from KCR. Kavitha also claimed that Harish Rao and Santosh Kumar were behind phone tapping during the BRS regime, including of her own staff and members of Rama Rao's team. "My father KCR is not the kind of person to tap phones. This was done by Harish Rao and Santosh Kumar for their vested interests," she alleged.

Kavitha alleged that in the 2018 Assembly elections, Harish Rao disbursed additional funds to nearly 20 candidates, questioning the source of the money. She claimed it came from corruption in the Kaleshwaram project. She also alleged that when Rama Rao contested from Sircilla in 2009, Harish Rao sent ₹60 lakh through a relative to defeat him.

She questioned why central agencies had summoned Rama Rao several times but never investigated Harish Rao. She referred to allegations of irregularities in his milk business, encroachment of government land at Ranganayaka Sagar, and his role in shifting the Kaleshwaram project site from Tummidihatti to Medigadda.

Kavitha accused Harish Rao of being back by Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy, claiming that conspiracies against her began after the two travelled together on a flight between Hyderabad and Delhi. "Harish Rao has surrendered to Revanth Reddy. Let them clarify whether they travelled together or not," she said.

Turning to Santosh Kumar, she described him as greedy and said he "was like salt damaging the curry." She accused him of involvement in a liquor shop case and of pressuring police to torture seven Dalit villagers in Nerella during protests against sand mining, which, she said, brought disrepute to Rama Rao.

No time to deal with this trash, says Revanth

Hyderabad: Outrightly dismissing the allegations levelled by Telangana Jagruthi president K Kavitha that he was backing T Harish Rao and J Santosh Kumar, Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy on Wednesday made it clear that he does not have time to involve himself with "trash and scum". Describing the BRS as a venomous snake that the people had already "killed", Revanth responded to Kavitha's allegations by saying: "Why will I be behind those trash persons and scum? I am a leader. I stand by the people of Telangana and will work for them. I don't have time to get involved in those useless issues." He continued: "They are fighting among themselves and backstabbing each other. They embrace each other while keeping knives hidden in their sleeves. "

No rethink yet on Sabarimala issue

K S SREEJITH @T'puram

WITH calls for withdrawal, or at least amendment, of the affidavit it filed in the Supreme Court on the issue of women's entry at Sabarimala getting shriller, the state government on Wednesday clarified that it has had no occasion to rethink the matter.

"The government has had no reason to think of such a step. It has to consider it only if the court seeks its response on any of the issues (related to the case). Unless it is asked, the state cannot interfere," Devaswom Minister V N Vasavan told TNIE when pointed out that the Opposition UDF has also joined the BJP in demanding withdrawal of the affidavit.

Earlier in the day, Leader of Opposition V D Satheesan demanded that the state government first clarify whether it intends to withdraw the affidavit filed in the SC favouring entry of women of all ages at Sabarimala. "Will the government withdraw cases registered against Ayyappa devotees for participating in the Namajapa procession? There are cases still pending," he told reporters. Vasavan asserted that the affidavit is in no way linked to the Global Ayyappa Sangamam. "The meet is being organised to discuss the development of Sabarimala -- making it a global pilgrimage centre and improving the facilities for devotees.

Other issues are not on the agenda," he said.

Referring to the demand for withdrawal of cases registered against those who participated in the agitation in 2018-19, the minister pointed out that the chief minister has already made it clear that only those of a serious nature would stay, and all other cases would be withdrawn, pending courts' approval.

Online betting: ED seizes 5 Mercs of MLA Veerendra, freezes ₹55 crore

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED), Bengaluru zonal office, on September 2 carried out search operations at multiple premises in Bengaluru and Challakere under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, in the alleged illegal online betting case involving Chitradurga Congress MLA KC Veerendra Puppy and others. In an official release on Wednesday, the ED stated that it had seized "five high-end vehicles, including Mercedes Benz with VIP numbers 0003 (KA 50 MB 0003, KA 09 ML 0003, KA 53 MD 0003, KA 53 MH 0003, KA 16 P 0003) and one with VIP number 5267 (KA 02 MU 5267)".

"Further, an amount of around Rs 55 crore was frozen, including around Rs 40.69 crore in nine bank accounts, and one demat account of Veerendra. Around Rs 14.46 crore in 262 mule accounts was recovered from one of the accused gateways through which money collected by multiple gaming websites, allegedly operated by Veerendra and his associates, was being routed," the central agency stated. It added that the "searches and tracing of proceeds of crime (PoC) were undertaken during the ED's custody of the prime accused, MLA, Chitradurga district, KC Veerendra".

The ED stated that on August 28, the agency had sought "extension of Veerendra's custody for an additional seven days on the basis of documentary evidence linking him to generation and laundering of PoC in the case (ECIR/BGZO/19/2025). The ECIR was earlier recorded against him and others in cheating the public in illegal online betting cases".

Earlier, the ED had conducted searches across 31 premises in Challakere, Bengaluru, Panaji, Gangtok, Jodhpur, Hubballi and Mumbai, and seized Rs 12crore in cash, gold jewellery worth Rs 6crore, around 10kg of silver articles and four vehicles. Several gateways have been used for routing payments collected through these websites". The money collected in a short span of time from websites operated by Veerendra and his associates through a single gateway alone is more than Rs 2,000 crore. His brother, KC Thippeswamy, operates three business entities -- Diamond Softech, TRS Technologies and Prime9Technologies -- from Dubai. These are related to call centre services and Veerendra's gaming businesses. It is suspected that many more such Dubai-based entities such as 'Castle Rock Project Management Services' and 'Lascaux Core Project Management Services' have been incorporated by Veerendra in partnership with Thippeswamy, Pruthvi N Raj, Anil Gowda and others.

The agency said the mule accounts are provided by various middlemen to the operators of these gaming websites, in this case, Appu alias Pruthvi (nephew of Veerendra), who in turn uses them to collect funds received from various players. These funds are further siphoned off through hawala transactions.

ED gets notice on plea against arrest of MLA Veerendra

Bengaluru: THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday issued notice to the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) on a petition filed by RD Chaitra, wife of Congress MLA from Chitradurga KC Veerendra, alleging that her husband was arrested illegally in connection with alleged online betting and gambling. Justice MI Arun issued notice after hearing the petition and adjourned the hearing to Monday. The petitioner asked the court to declare that the arrest of her husband, pursuant to the issuance of the grounds of arrest made on August 23, 2025 arising out of a complaint registered by the ED from Gangtok, Sikkim, is without jurisdiction, illegal and arbitrary. Therefore, a direction to be issued to release him, she requested the court.

Along with the vehicles, Rs 14.46 crore was recovered from 262 mule accounts

UNION MINISTRY ASKS FOREST DEPT TO RELOOK AT NH-169A PROJECT

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

The Union Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change (MoEFCC) on Tuesday wrote to the Additional Chief Secretary, Forest, Ecology and Environment Department (ACS) to take a relook at a project proposal to widen NH-169A.

This is in view of a complaint by conservationists, environmentalists and members of Green Lives Shivamogga Trust, an NGO, to reject the proposal as the national highway passes through Someshwara Wildlife Sanctuary, which is an eco-sensitive zone.

In the complaint, they sought action against the Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF), Kudremukh and Shivamogga divisions, for allegedly favouring the project proponents.

Citing the Supreme Court order in the Godhavarman case, they stated that for any project to be implemented in forest land, permission should be obtained from the departments concerned. But in this case, the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) started the project without obtaining any clearance from the forest and environment departments, they said. Through the Parivesh portal, the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH) sought permission to use 11.6662 hectares of land in Shivamogga. Of this land, 3.4793 hectares are forest land, 1.484 hectares are deemed forest and 1.9983 hectares are reserve forest land. This is not the first time that MoEFCC has written to the state government on the project. In December last, it wrote to the ACS to restrain from granting clearance for tree felling to widen NH-169A in non-forest areas. In April 2025, MoEFCC wrote to the ACS to look into the forest clearance for widening NH-169A between Megaravalli and Agumbe.

However, on August 12, the ACS wrote to the Deputy Director General of Forests to give in-principal approval under Section-2 of the Van (Samrakshan evam Samvardhan) Adhiniyam Rules to divert 3.4967 hectares of forest land at Kolige, Hosur and Megaravalli villages of Thirthahalli taluk in Shivamogga district to upgrade it to a two-lane road with paved shoulder from existing intermediate road of NH-169(A) in favour of MoRTH.

CM Siddaramaiah and Tourism Minister H K Patil and others during a meeting in Bengaluru on Wednesday

KARNATAKA Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday directed officials to develop Anjanadri, the sacred site in Hampi believed to be the birthplace of Lord Hanuman, into a mythological and spiritual destination.

Reviewing the plans with Tourism Minister H K Patil and senior officials in Bengalur, the Chief Minister stated that a ropeway should be constructed at Anjanadri Hill to facilitate easier access for devotees to the summit. The move will particularly benefit senior citizens, women, children and the specially abled who find it difficult to climb the 575 steps leading to the shrine. Siddaramaiah also instructed officials to provide dormitory facilities, a community hall, and other amenities to improve the pilgrimage experience. He emphasised that facilities should be created for the elderly to reach the shrine without difficulty.

Tourism officials said foot traffic at Anjanadri has risen significantly since the consecration of the Ram Mandir in Ayodhya. Thousands of devotees now visit the hill on weekends and holidays, but many struggle with the steep climb. In one incident a few months ago, a youth died of a heart attack after scaling the steps.

Violence back in Bhima belt, ex-GP prez killed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Vijayapura

AFTER a long break, bloodshed returned to the Bhima river belt as unidentified assailants killed former gram panchayat president of Devar Nimbargi village of Chadchan taluk, Bhimanagouda Biradar (43), in broad daylight of Wednesday.

The deceased, reportedly a close associate of history-sheeter Mahadeva Sahukar Bhairagond, was shot dead by four unidentified masked men near the gram panchayat office.

The police said Biradar was at a saloon in the village when the masked men barged in. They allegedly threw chilli powder into the eyes of the barber and then opened fire on Biradar. The assailants also attacked him with deadly weapons, including a sword, before fleeing the spot, sources said.

Biradar was rushed to a private hospital in Vijayapura, where he succumbed to his injuries. Police sources said he sustained five bullet injuries in his head and chest.

Preliminary investigations suggested that the murder could be linked to a rivalry over the post of gram panchayat president. A case has been registered at the Chadchan police station.

SP Laxman Nimbargi told media that the police have arrested four persons, Raziullah Makandar, Wasim Muniyar, Feroz Sheikh and Moulali Ladlesaab, all from Devar Nimbargi village. They have confessed to the murder, saying they wanted revenge for being cheated by the deceased. The probe is, however, underway, he added.

Bhairagond rushed to the hospital upon hearing the news of his close associate's death. Bhairagond, who is facing several criminal charges, is said to be out on bail.

8-yr-old donates stem cells to save 18-month-old sis

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AN eight-year-old girl from Hassan has helped save her younger sister's life by donating stem cells for a bone marrow transplant (BMT) at Manipal Hospital, Yeshwanthpur. The 18-month-old child, diagnosed with thalassemia major, no longer requires regular blood transfusions after the procedure.

Saniya (name changed) was just four months old when doctors confirmed she had thalassemia major, a severe inherited blood disorder. For the first year of her life, she survived on transfusions every few weeks.

The family decided to consider a bone marrow transplant, the only curative option for the disease. Tests showed that Saniya's elder sister Meher (name changed), just eight years old, was a perfect donor match. Despite the complexity of the procedure, doctors performed the transplant when Saniya was 18 months old. Currently, Saniya is recovering well and no longer depends on transfusions.

Dr Vinay Munikoty Venkatesh, consultant, Paediatric Haematology Oncology and BMT at the hospital, said that bone marrow transplantation is currently the only permanent cure. However, he pointed out that awareness about preventive parental screening, timely diagnosis, and treatment options remains very low in India. "Thalassemia, with proper screening, can be prevented. And for those affected, bone marrow transplantation is the only permanent cure available today," Dr Vinay said, adding that with advancements, bone marrow transplants can now be performed even with half-matched donors.

CM: No foreign preachers at Meelad meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Wednesday clarified that foreign preachers will not be allowed to preach or participate in religious gatherings while on tourist visa. There is rising public concern over alleged violations related to foreign participation in religious events.

Home Minister G Parameshwara said Indian law does not permit foreigners to preach, and this would be brought to the notice of organizers of religious events. His statement comes just days before the International Meelad-un-Nabi Conference, scheduled for September 5 and 6 at the Palace Grounds in Bengaluru. "We have brought it to the notice of organisers and police have advised them accordingly. The Foreign Regional Registration Office will monitor the event to ensure there are no violations," Parameshwara said. The event had drawn criticism with objections raised about hosting such a large-scale minority gathering in a public venue and concerns about foreign nationals engaging in religious activities without appropriate visas.

PUNISHMENT MUST FOLLOW CONVICTION, NOT PRECEDE IT

THE Delhi High Court's denial of bail to Umar Khalid, Sharjeel Imam and others accused in the 2020 Delhi riots conspiracy case again highlights the need for a delicate balance between national security and individual liberty. Years after their arrest, the trial has scarcely advanced and bail continues to be denied. Indian jurisprudence rests on two principles: bail is the rule, and every person is presumed innocent until proven guilty. Yet, under the stringent Section 43D(5) of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, these safeguards are severely weakened. Bail can be denied on the mere perception of a prima facie case. At the bail stage, courts often avoid a detailed assessment and tend to defer to the prosecution's version.

In the present case, the prosecution has relied heavily on the concept of a "larger conspiracy", citing WhatsApp groups and meetings as evidence of coordination. Khalid's counsel rightly argued that being a member of such groups without sending incriminating messages cannot amount to criminality. No money trail, no weapons, and recovery of no kind has been linked to him. Equally troubling are the words of the solicitor general that those doing something against the nation "better be in jail until acquitted or convicted". His insistence that "long incarceration can't be used to seek relief" runs counter to the prosecutor's duty, which is to seek a fair and expeditious trial, not indefinite detention.

The 2020 Delhi riots were a tragic event, and it is important to achieve closure and accountability through solid evidence, fair trial, and timely adjudications. The state should quickly present any proof of conspiracy and work to secure convictions. Otherwise, the accused cannot be held in prison indefinitely, only on suspicion and association. The judiciary has often asserted that personal liberty is the soul of democracy. In K A Najeeb (2021), the Supreme Court acknowledged that "the presence of statutory restrictions like Section 43D(5) per se does not oust the ability of constitutional courts to grant bail on grounds of violation of Part III of the Constitution". The Delhi riots case will test whether fairness, balance, and credibility are finally upheld in the face of political and social turbulence. A law intended to protect the country must not be seen as corroding the very freedoms it was meant to defend.

KAVITHA'S EXIT COULD WEAKEN BRS, BENEFIT BJP

THE exit of Kalvakuntla Kavitha, daughter of former Telangana chief minister and BRS chief K Chandrasekhar Rao, from the party could not have come at a worse time for the ageing patriarch. Having lost the assembly and Lok Sabha elections, KCR has confined himself to his farmhouse, leaving his son K T Rama Rao and nephew Harish Rao to take on the ruling Congress. However, increasing attacks from the Congress, including the latest government move to order a CBI probe into alleged irregularities in the Kaleshwaram irrigation project, have put the BRS in a spot of bother. It is under these circumstances that Kavitha's dissenting voice crossed a red line.

The immediate trigger for KCR to suspend his daughter was her public outburst against Harish, whom she accused of playing a major role in Kaleshwaram and dragging her father into a CBI probe. Her remarks indirectly endorsed the Congress allegations. But his action made her double down and resign from both the party and the legislative council, and going so far as to accuse Harish of seeking to take over the party.

Sensational as her allegations are, the episode is essentially a family feud. It is a truism that all family-run parties face internal power struggles at some point. Kavitha's ambitions were thwarted, in contrast to her brother's fortunes. While KTR was made the party working president, she remained a member of the council with no position in the party. The Delhi liquor scam, in which she was jailed, did not help her cause. Following her release, she was not, in her words, allowed to take an active role. The stifling atmosphere and dwindling political capital perhaps turned her into a rebel. In reality, her words and actions are aimed as much against her father, for it is he who is the deciding authority.

What could be the political fallout of Kavitha's exit? She is no mass leader to split the party. Floating a new outfit is easier said than done, which leaves her with the option of joining the Congress or the BJP. The danger for BRS is that she could dent its prospects. The more the BRS is weakened, the stronger will be the other opposition party, the BJP—and therein lies the real fallout. KCR could have avoided this, but then, a patriarchal mindset seems to have made it inevitable.

QUICK TAKE

IDEAL IDOLS FOR INDIA

THE National Green Tribunal has rightly pulled up the Tamil Nadu government for allowing immersion of plaster of Paris Vinayagar idols into the sea in violation of pollution control norms, court orders, and coastal zone rules. It's not only about that banned substance and this festival. Dumping hazardous waste into public water bodies at the end of festivals is a year-long, pan-India problem which is becoming bigger with the ever-increasing height of idols. There are two ways to deal with it. Make the public pay for an immediate cleanup after a tightly-controlled period of immersions. Or incentivise the use of only natural, water-soluble, safe materials. Surely the deities would approve.

After the success of Modi's China visit comes the hard part of following up. Two consequential issues playing along are the border talks and the India-US poker game over tariffs

WHY THE GLASS FROM TIANJIN IS HALF-FULL

M K BHADRAKUMAR
Former diplomat

SURVEYING Prime Minister Narendra Modi's two-day visit to Tianjin, most China experts and ex-bureaucrats are sceptical whether an India-China rapprochement is possible. India's 'permanent establishment', with its tunnel vision, is wary of China's intentions. Like in Bertolt Brecht's existential play Waiting for Godot, they would rather await Donald Trump's arrival. Thus, it is largely left to the global audience to take note of the geopolitics of Modi's visit.

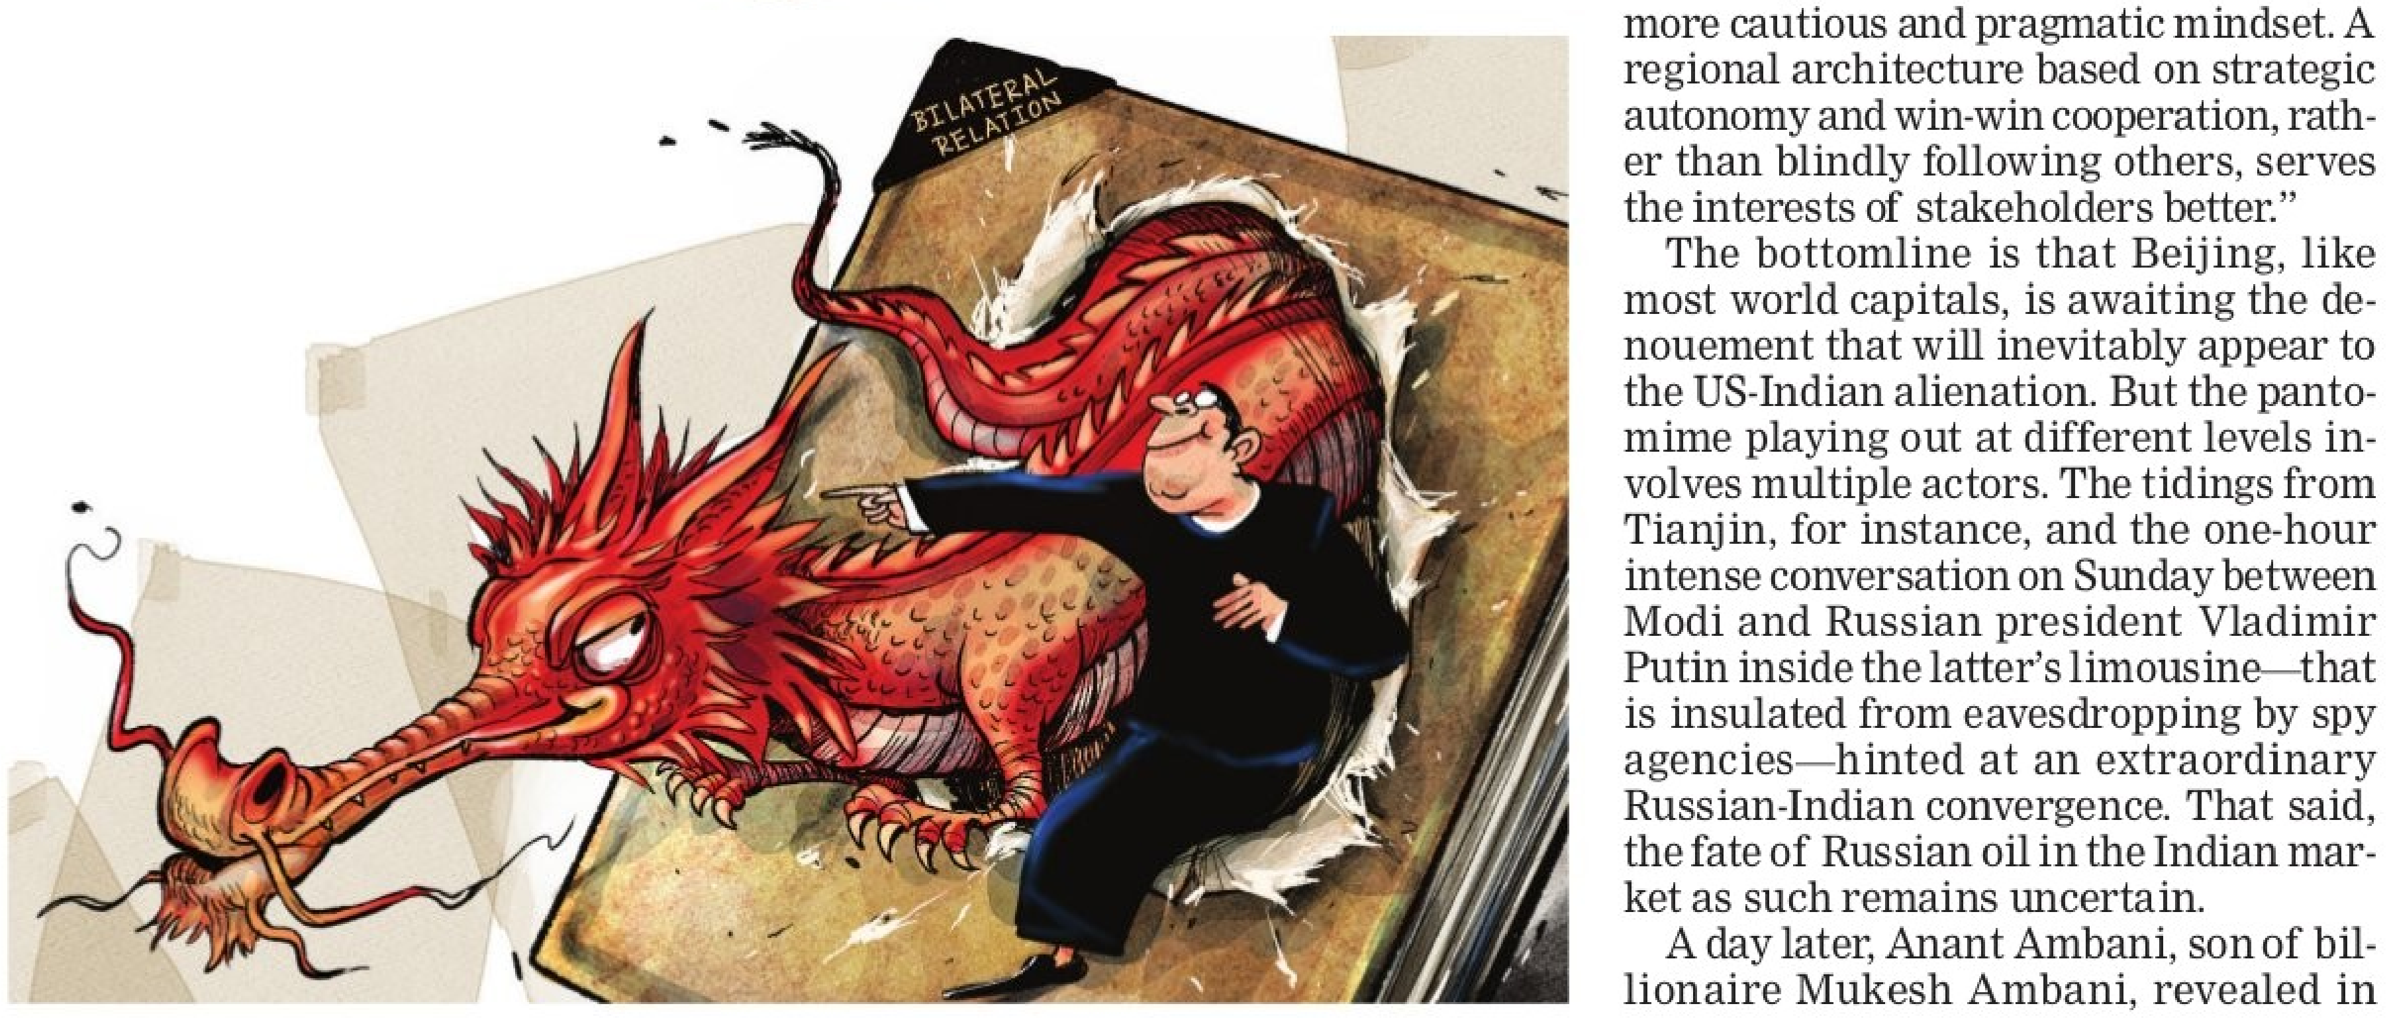
If Modi travelled to China with hopes of rebuilding the India-China relations from ground zero, he returned home with a glass half-full. That is not because the visit and the meeting with Chinese President Xi Jinping weren't meticulously planned. On the contrary, high-level discussions in New Delhi between top officials of the two countries had preceded the visit up to the eleventh hour.

First, the impact of the visit on bilateral cooperation. Xi told Modi that achieving a 'dragon-elephant dance' is the right choice for the two neighbouring countries. Modi argued that peace and tranquillity at the border are prerequisites for bilateral ties. While Xi flagged that the bilateral ties cannot be defined merely by the boundary issue, Modi added, and Xi agreed, that India and China are partners, not adversaries, and would have far more consensus than differences. Both agreed that differences should not turn into disputes.

Both India and China see the potential to leverage the external environment of tariff walls to build greater mutual understanding to advance commercial ties. Foreign Secretary Vikram Misri stated at a media briefing that this is a discussion going on at many levels between the two governments, and businesses and entities that are involved in trade in the two countries, "and we will have to see how it evolves".

China is very much interested in the expansion and deepening of business ties, and more importantly, is conscious of the role that the Indian and Chinese economies can play in stabilising world trade. Thus, Modi and Xi agreed, once again, that there is need to proceed from a political and strategic direction to reduce India's trade deficit, facilitate bilateral trade and investment ties and inject transparency and predictability into business conditions.

Another significant outcome is to accelerate implementation of the understandings reached between the two countries' special representatives at their 24th round of talks on the boundary held in New Delhi just a fortnight ago. There was understanding on the need to maintain peace on the border using the existing and new mechanisms, and to avoid disturbing the overall relationship.



SOURAV ROY

Misri disclosed that an immediate follow-up can be expected in the coming days and weeks to flesh out the recent decisions of the special representatives with regard to setting up an expert group to "explore early harvest in boundary delimitation" in the border areas; setting up a working group "to advance effective border management"; creating general level mechanisms in the eastern and middle sectors; and discuss de-escalation.

Overall, there is no question that the meeting at Tianjin injected new momentum into the bilateral relations. Both leaders actively signalled cooperation. The involvement of Cai Qi, a senior politician in Xi's inner circle for many years, is noteworthy.

The importance of being Cai Qi should be understood. He is the first-ranked member of the Secretariat of the Chinese Communist Party (CCP), fifth-ranking member of the CCP Politburo Standing Committee and director of the CCP General Office—making him the de facto chief of staff to CCP General Secretary Xi. In his capacity as director of CCP's General Office, Cai supervises the implementation of top-level decisions, internal and external alike.

The ministry of external affairs readout said that Modi "shared with Cai his vision for bilateral relations and sought his support to realise the vision of the two leaders". According to Xinhua, Cai said China "is willing to work with India to enhance friendly exchanges and mutually beneficial cooperation, properly manage and resolve differences, and promote further improvement and development of China-India relations".

Presumably, such robust political signalling and the new formulation that India and China are "development partners and not rivals" go to convey that Beijing and New Delhi are making strategic choices based on their own interests. However, the paradox remains that the cup is still only half-full. What will happen remains to be seen.

In the recent past, Global Times featured two commentaries on the "confrontational nature" of the Quad. The more recent one coinciding with the Xi-Modi meeting noted, "Regional countries should approach alliance relations with a more cautious and pragmatic mindset. A regional architecture based on strategic autonomy and win-win cooperation, rather than blindly following others, serves the interests of stakeholders better."

The bottomline is that Beijing, like most world capitals, is awaiting the denouement that will inevitably appear to the US-Indian alienation. But the pantomime playing out at different levels involves multiple actors. The tidings from Tianjin, for instance, and the one-hour intense conversation on Sunday between Modi and Russian president Vladimir Putin inside the latter's limousine—that is insulated from eavesdropping by spy agencies—hinted at an extraordinary Russian-Indian convergence. That said, the fate of Russian oil in the Indian market as such remains uncertain.

A day later, Anant Ambani, son of billionaire Mukesh Ambani, revealed in his first address at Reliance's annual general meeting of shareholders that there is pressure in purchasing Russian oil. Make no mistake that when Washington criticises India for buying Russian oil, the implication is that it wants India to 'pick a side'—the same logic behind drawing India into the Quad. And that goal is nothing more than to turn India into a pawn in Washington's so-called Indo-Pacific Strategy. But Delhi is still confused whether such small political cliques align with its pursuit of full strategic autonomy.

The talks in Tianjin provide a rare window of opportunity for improving the China-India relationship. Challenges do remain, but the two countries' willingness for pragmatic cooperation introduces a positive variable into global strategic balance. That beginning augurs well, but Modi needs to follow up.

HOW TO JUDGE JUDGEMENTS

SAAI SUDHARSAN SATHIYAMOORTHY
Advocate, Madras High Court

THE natural use the word 'judgement' is to denote a mental act of attributing a predicate to a subject. In that sense, the act of judging primarily involves inference, that is, determination of the connotation of the subject, or attribution of certain property to the object even if the inference arrived at, or the attribution cast upon, are not justified or derived through argumentation.

This conception, rooted in the classical tradition extending from Aristotelian logic through contemporary analytic philosophy, generally understands judgement as the attribution of properties to particular objects or subjects.

In the legal context, where a judge is required to deliver a judgement based on facts and to justify the inference or attribution, this conception reflects as the determination that particular factual or normative claims are true or false. This determination carries significant practical consequences.

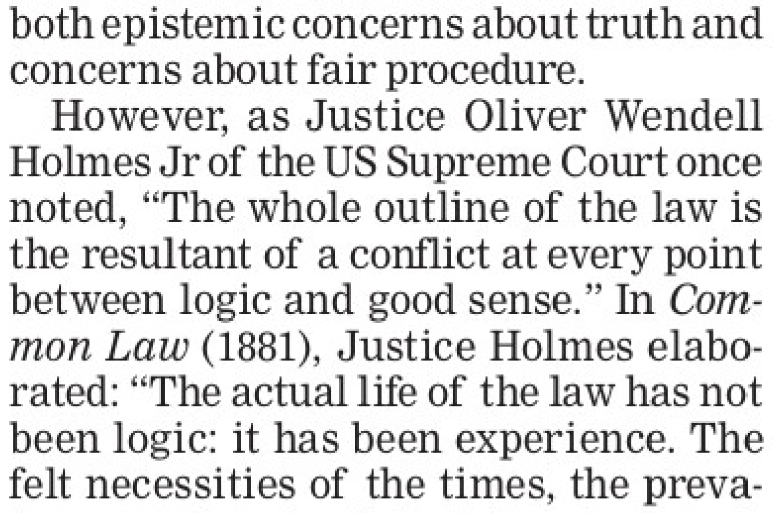
When a court determines that a person is guilty of negligence, it is making a substantive assessment about the relationship between 'individual agency' and the legal consequence of the use of the agency. The underlying conclusion is the result of determinations about personal identity over time, the nature of causal responsibility, and the ontological status of legal properties. In this case, the court has passed a judgement that a person is guilty of a particular offense, and it differs from a more generalised judgement that "negligence must be punished with liability".

However, some judgements do not involve such attributions or objects. This dimension concerns their relationship with truth—as a determination, recognition or attribution of truth values to factual or normative claims.

Take the Kesavananda Bharati (1973) judgement, which arguably represents the most important example of such truth value attribution in Indian constitutional law. The Supreme Court held that parliament's power to amend the Constitution was subject to implicit limitations that preserve the Constitution's basic structure. Here, the alethic dimension manifested through the court recognising the truth of a constitutional interpretation that curbed parliament's powers.

The language of judicial judgements is the language of logic. These conceptions reveal that judicial judgements, much like other judgements, emerge not just as a derivative phenomenon but as the fundamental structure within which cognitive activity occurs. Institutions ensure that questions about the characterisation of persons and events are addressed through processes that take seriously both epistemic concerns about truth and concerns about fair procedure.

However, as Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr of the US Supreme Court once noted, "The whole outline of the law is the resultant of a conflict at every point between logic and good sense." In Common Law (1881), Justice Holmes elaborated: "The actual life of the law has not been logic: it has been experience. The felt necessities of the times, the prevalent moral and political theories, intuitions of public policy, avowed or unconscious, even the prejudices which judges share with their fellow-men, have had a good deal more to do than syllogism."



WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

Inadequacies in criticising legal judgements have led people to dismiss practical interpretations of the law. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr said that the actual life of a law is not of logic—it's the experience that judges' rulings bring to it

As legal realists would attest, judges' background, beliefs, temperament and even the demeanor of the arguing counsels affect the manner in which issues are framed and weighed. This, however, is not because the judges are acting in bad faith or pursuing an agenda. Rather, their lived experiences, which is what Justice Holmes refers to as "good sense", lead them to see the same legal issues differently, even if the language of their judgements follow the same logic. For example, one cannot deny that Kesavananda Bharati was a product of its time.

How does one then criticise judgements, especially ones that deal with constitutional issues? One way would be evaluating the judgements based on their fidelity to formal logic and its methods. Yet, this may not always capture the undercurrents driving legal developments.

Another way would be adopting pragmatism, to judge judgements on the basis of their practical outcomes. There always being a competing "good sense", as long as the outcomes are not anathematic, the judgement must stand. Finally, we may judge also on the basis of whether the judge has adequately acknowledged and tested their pre-suppositions in the form of adherence to procedure.

Take the recent interim order of the Madras High Court staying an amendment taking away the governor's power to appoint vice chancellors. The criticism of the order primarily focused on what some labelled as 'misplaced urgency', pendency of a transfer petition before the Supreme Court, and an alleged lack of opportunity to file a counter.

However, the criticism ignores the fact that Tamil Nadu had already constituted search committees, issued government orders, published advertisements, and commenced the selection process for vice-chancellor appointments. The criticism fundamentally misunderstands judicial duty. The SC had given no stay order or oral injunction, preventing the high court from proceeding. All of these, including the issue of opportunity to file counters, are dealt with in the order.

It is not that the high court's order is immune to critique. The inadequacy of the criticism simply points to a broader problem: we tend to criticise constitutional judgements through result-oriented attacks or procedural nitpicking. A better approach would be to engage with alternative constitutional interpretations and their practical consequences, while maintaining transparency about our own motivations, values and assumptions.

Use diplomatic clout with Putin on Ukraine, Germany urges India

During talks with German counterpart, EAM says India's policy shaped by strategic turbulence

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Wednesday said that "predictability has a huge premium in global politics", a pointed observation as India navigates major global shifts from its delicate balancing act with China and Russia to trade tensions with the US.

Speaking after bilateral talks with German Foreign Minister Johann Wadephul in New Delhi, Jaishankar underscored how strategic turbulence is reshaping India's foreign policy choices. "The changes we see in the world today do influence our policy and do influence the manner we approach other countries," he said, reflecting New Delhi's evolving approach to a fragmented international order.

Germany, a key partner for India in Europe, used the dialogue to press India to leverage its close ties with Moscow to encourage a peaceful resolution in Ukraine. Referring to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's recent meeting with Russian President Vladimir Putin, Wadephul said: "We don't always see 100% eye to eye, but India can use its relationship with Russia to bring peace back to Europe."

He also addressed European concerns over the flow of Russian oil, amid growing criticism of India's imports. "There have been several packages of sanctions that we have imposed, amongst them the so-called oil price cap. The purpose is to withdraw the financial bases that Russia has and that enables it to wage this war," Wadephul said.

"But the purpose has not been that Russia uses detours and still manages to get its oil to us — we've taken appropriate measures to prevent that." While India has defended its energy purchases as essential for economic stability, the US and the West continues to scrutinise how Russian oil reaches global markets, he added.

The talks also focused on deepening trade and technology ties, with both sides expressing urgency on concluding the long-stalled India-EU Free Trade Agreement (FTA). Germany is backing the deal as a strategic counter to rising global protectionism.

"We appreciate Germany's aim to double trade with India," Jaishankar said, highlighting new opportunities in semiconductors, green hydrogen, and export control reform.

Ariha Shah's cultural rights are ensured: Jaishankar

Jaishankar also raised the case of Ariha Shah, a four-year-old Indian girl in German foster care since 2021. Ariha was separated from her parents after she sustained injuries reportedly caused by her grandmother, after which was placed in protective custody. The child has now spent over 46 months in foster care. "I underlined to the Minister that it is essential her cultural rights are ensured and that she grows up in Indian surroundings. This matter needs to be resolved without further delay,"Jaishankar said after the talks.

Tweak in NDCT rules soon to make drug testing simple

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE Centre is set to amend the New Drugs and Clinical Trials (NDCT) Rules, 2019, to simplify requirements and procedures for obtaining test licenses and for submitting applications related to Bioavailability (BA) and Bioequivalence (BE) studies.

The amendment will help reduce delays in drug development and approval timelines in the future in the country.

According to the Union Health Ministry, in accordance with the directions of Prime Minister Narendra Modi towards reducing the regulatory compliance and towards promoting ease of doing business in the pharmaceutical and clinical research sectors, the ministry is set to amend the New Drugs and Clinical Trials (NDCT) Rules, 2019.

The proposed amendments were published in the Gazette of India on August 28, 2025 seeking public comments. Under the proposed amendment, the present license system for test licenses has been converted to a notification system.

Through this, the applicants need not wait for test licenses (except a small category of high risk category drugs) but will need to just intimate the Central Licensing Authority.

Additionally, the overall statutory processing time for test licence applications will be reduced from 90 days to 45 days. Now, the existing licence requirement will be dispensed with for certain categories of BA/BE studies, which may instead be initiated upon submission of an intimation or notification to the Central Licensing Authority.

These proposed amendments will reduce the number of license applications being submitted by approximately 50%. This will facilitate quicker initiation of BA/BE studies, testing and examination of drugs for research, and reduce delays in the drug development and approval processes.

Moreover, the amendments will enable the Central Drugs Standard Control Organization (CDSCO) to optimise the deployment of its human resources, thereby enhancing the efficiency and effectiveness of regulatory oversight.

"This initiative forms a part of the broader efforts toward Ease of Doing Business to promote the growth of the Indian pharma industry and align domestic regulations with global best practices," a statement from the health ministry said.

Amendments to reduce license applications

These proposed amendments will reduce the number of license applications being submitted by approximately 50%. This will facilitate quicker initiation of BA/BE studies, testing and examination of drugs for research, and reduce delays in the drug development and approval processes. The proposed amendments were published in the Gazette of India on August 28, 2025

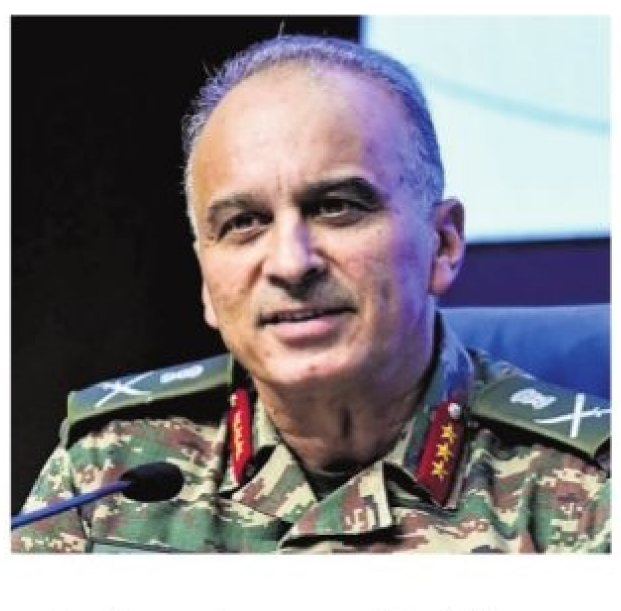
Army releases video to debunk Trump claims on brokering Pak ceasefire

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Northern Command of the Indian Army on Wednesday released a video highlighting key moments from Operation Sindoor, a multi-service retaliatory strike carried out in response to the April 22 terror attack in Pahalgam that killed 26 civilians. The operation, involving coordinated strikes by the Army, Navy, and Air Force targeted terror launchpads and military infrastructure across Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK).

The video also addresses how the ceasefire between India and Pakistan came about , a question that has drawn global attention amid reports that US President Donald Trump was incensed that India did not endorse his claim of having "stopped the war."

In sharp contrast to that narrative, the video features a statement by India's Director General of Military Operations (DGMO), Lt Gen Rajiv Ghai, who said "It was the Pakistani DGMO who proposed that we cease hostilities." This is the only direct comment by an Indian officer in the clip, reinforcing New Delhi's position that the ceasefire was a bilateral military decision, not a product of third-party mediation.



Indian Army called the operation "an exemplar of restraint turning into decisive response." The three-and-a-half-minute video features aerial visuals from drones and missiles used during the strikes, paired with high-impact music and all-caps messages. One of the final frames reads: "A new line is drawn: India will not stop until terrorism is wiped out."

Operation Sindoor was launched in the early hours of May 7, following the Pahalgam massacre. Indian forces escalated their operations further in response to Pakistan's attempted attacks on Indian military installations on May 8, 9, and 10. Multiple Pakistani military targets were struck in fierce counter-attacks.

The conflict ended with a mutual understanding on May 10 to cease hostilities.

Centre wants to abrogate fulcrum of Constitution: K'taka, WB & HP to SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

ON 7th day of hearing in the Presidential reference case on Wednesday, governments of several states, including Karnataka, West Bengal and Himachal Pradesh, claimed before the Supreme Court that the Union government sought to "abrogate the fulcrum of the Constitution" by questioning the Court's April 8 ruling that prescribed timelines for the President and the Governor to decide on Bills passed by the state legislatures.

Senior Advocate Gopal Subramanium, appearing for Karnataka, argued that the Union government tried to indirectly abrogate the fulcrum of the Constitution,which is the cabinet form of government and the responsibility of the legislature.

He clarified that the democratic form of government through the Cabinet has been held to be part of the basic structure of the Constitution.

Senior Advocate Kapil Sibal, representing West Bengal, contended that the Court should not fall into a trap where the governor becomes an impediment to the functioning of the Constitution.

"The Constitution is a living document. It owes its genesis to history, but owes its allegiance to the future, and you [judges] are the future because you interpret it. Let us not fall into a trap where the governor becomes an impediment to the functioning of the Constitution. Therefore, you will have to say something.... Don't give a timeline, but you still have to say that there is no way he can withhold if it is passed again," he argued.

The submissions were made before the Constitution Bench of the Chief Justice of India BR Gavai and Justices Surya Kant, Vikram Nath, PS Narasimha, and Atul S Chandurkar.

Sibal, seeking dismissal of the Presidential reference, told the apex court that the governor cannot examine the legislative competence of a bill passed by the assembly. "Since Independence, there is hardly any example where the President has withheld a bill passed by Parliament because it is the will of the people. The legislative competence of a bill has to be tested in courts," he added.

Sibal argued that the governor cannot look into the constitutionality of a bill. The bench then asked whether the governor can withhold assent if the bill is repugnant in view of the central legislation. Sibal said that would be a rarest of rare case. Legislation can be challenged in a court of law by citizens or by someone else. It's in the rarest and rare case that a governor says I cannot pass," Sibal said.

'Policy for convicted foreigners needed'

After it learnt that a foreign national accused in a cheating case jumped bail and is on the run, the SC has underlined the need for a policy to ensure foreign nationals committing crimes in the country don't "flee from justice". The SC had on December 4 last year set aside the Jharkhand High Court's May 2022 order granting bail to accused Alex David.

Early bail tendency unacceptable: SC

The SC on Wednesday slammed Leena Paulose, wife of alleged conman Sukesh Chandrashekar, seeking expeditious hearing of her bail plea before the Delhi High Court in a ₹200 crore extortion case. A bench of Justices Dipankar Datta and Prashant Kumar Mishra said the tendency of approaching SC for seeking early hearing of cases is not acceptable.

Shah: Govt not to rest till Naxals surrender, caught and eliminated completely

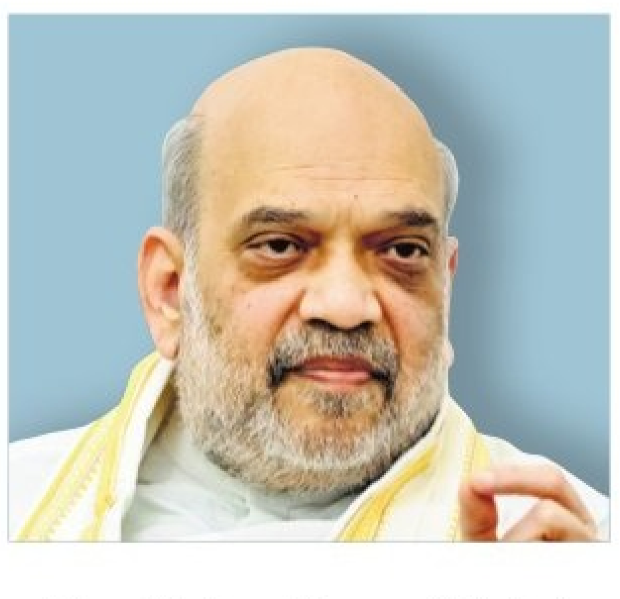
MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Wednesday said that the Prime Minister Narendra Modi-led Union government would not rest until all Naxals are either surrendered, caught or eliminated completely.

Felicitating the personnel of the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF), Chhattisgarh Police, District Reserve Guard (DRG) and the CoBRA battalions, who successfully carried out 'Operation Black Forest' on Karregutta hill in Chhattisgarh, Shah said that the government was committed to making India Naxal-free.

The bravery and valour displayed by the jawans during 'Operation Black Forest' would be remembered as a golden chapter in the history of anti-Naxal operations, he added.

Despite the heat, altitude and threat of IEDs at every step, the security forces carried out the operation with high morale and successfully destroyed a major Naxal base camp, Shah noted, adding that the material dump and supply chain of the Left Wing Extremists (LWEs), which has been established on Karregutta hill, were valorously destroyed by personnel from the Chhattisgarh Police, CRPF, DRG and CoBRA.



The Union Home Minister said the extremists have inflicted severe damage on some of the country's least developed regions by disrupting schools, hospitals and obstructing government welfare schemes.

Due to continued anti-Naxal operations, there has been a "new sunrise" in the lives of 6.5 crore people across the region stretching from Pashupatinath to Tirupati, he noted.

Shah said the government is taking all necessary steps to support security personnel, who have suffered serious injuries during anti-Naxal operations, ensuring their lives are made easier and reiterated that the government is committed to eliminating Naxalism from the country by March 31, 2026.

Chhattisgarh CM Vishnu Dev Sai and his deputy Vijay Sharma were also present on the occasion.

Post-Silkyara disaster, SoP for tunnel alignment studies, approval on NHs

Step-by-step methodology: Identifying preliminary corridors, reviewing past investigation reports, collecting high-resolution baseline data, developing technically viable alignments, consulting stakeholders, and comparing alternatives to ensure robust planning

TUNNELS ON THE WAY

The SoP further states that portal location should be optimised for access, gradient, drainage and minimal land acquisition

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

IN the wake of tunnel collapse incidents like Silkyara in Uttarakhand, the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways has worked out standard operating procedure (SoP) for tunnel alignment studies and approval on national highways; mandating that at least three alternative alignments such as the shortest path, geologically or geotechnically favourable routes, and options with minimal social or cost impact must be evaluated before finalising the alignment.

The guidelines caution against routes passing through eco-sensitive zones, heritage sites, fault lines, steep slopes, or dense urban settlements. They prescribe a step-by-step methodology: identifying preliminary corridors, reviewing past investigation reports, collecting high-resolution baseline data across multiple disciplines, developing technically viable alignments, consulting stakeholders, and comparing alternatives to ensure robust planning.

The SoP further states that portal location should be optimised for access, gradient, drainage and minimal land acquisition. For tunnel portals, the document stresses optimisation for access, gradient, drainage, and minimal land acquisition, while factoring in slope stability, drainage channels, and land cover.

The under-construction Silkyara Bend–Barkot tunnel in Uttarakhand caved in November 2023, which trapped 41 workers for 16 days. In May, to enhance tunnel safety across India, the National Disaster Management Authority (NDMA) has also initiated the development of national guidelines for tunnel construction and operation.

According to the officials, the tunnel alignments longer than 1.5 km will henceforth be finalised in line with the new SoP and submitted to the Alignment Approval Committee for sanction after review. The document also highlights the use of Geographic Information System and Digital Elevation Model tools for mapping elevation profiles, and mandates preparation of a Geotechnical Investigation.

At least 91 attacks on Indian students, with consequent 30 deaths

At least 91 attacks on Indian students abroad were officially recorded, culminating in 30 deaths. For Australia, these episodes strike a painful chord of memory. Images of battered young men dominated nightly broadcasts, sparking outrage in India and forcing Canberra into reassurances.

HOSTILITY, FEAR GRIPS INDIANS DOWN UNDER

VISMAY BASU @ New Delhi

IN recent months, Australia has witnessed a surge of anti-immigration rallies, many of which were virulently directed at the Indian community. In Sydney, Melbourne, and Brisbane, demonstrators have brandished placards and shouted incendiary slogans, portraying Indian students and workers as the culprits behind rising job insecurity, housing shortages, and pressure on civic services.

Data presented in the Indian Parliament earlier this year discloses that at least 91 attacks on Indian students abroad were officially recorded, culminating in 30 deaths.

For Australia, these episodes strike a painful chord of memory. In 2009 and 2010, a spate of racially motivated assaults on Indian students in Melbourne soured bilateral relations. The attacks eventually ebbed, but the scars never truly healed. The recent rallies have reopened the wounds.

Today, more than 13 lakh Indian students are scattered across the world's lecture halls and laboratories, one of the largest mobile student populations globally.

Canada embodies the contradictions of this migration story. Ottawa has eagerly courted Indian students, casting them as central to its education economy. Yet relations between India and Canada have soured in recent years, and that disenchantment has trickled down to daily life. In Toronto, Brampton and Vancouver students describe themselves as caught in the crossfire.

In the US, the 2017 killing of engineer Srinivas Kuchibhotla in Kansas remains etched in the diaspora's memory, a chilling reminder of how quickly xenophobia can turn fatal.

Britain, with its 185,000 Indian students, presents a more elliptical picture. While no recent large-scale assaults have been reported, racism simmers beneath the veneer of multiculturalism.

Punjab completely submerged

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

PUNJAB has been declared a disaster-affected state by the government, as 37 people have died across the state and 3.5 lakh people affected in 1,655 villages; besides, 19,474 people have been moved to safer places. Around 4.32 lakh acres of farmland has been submerged in floodwater, leading to devastating crop losses just weeks ahead of harvesting, along with a widespread loss of livestock.

According to sources, Punjab chief secretary K.A.P. Sinha, who also chairs the state executive committee under the Disaster Management Act, 2025, has declared all 23 districts of the state as flood-affected.

District commissioners have been authorised to issue necessary orders under Section 34 of the Act and empowered to act independently in case of any imminent disaster. All District Disaster Management Authorities (DDMAs) have been directed to take adequate measures to ensure relief for the affected population.

The PWD, water resources and power departments have been instructed to start repairs of their infrastructure on a war footing. All the departments have been told to strictly adhere to their designated emergency support functions and take necessary actions to ensure a timely and effective emergency response.

Meanwhile, the telecom operators have been instructed to ensure mobile and landline connectivity, while officers were instructed to ensure smooth movement of people and essential services.

The state government has ordered the closure of all educational institutions until September 7. Sources said that the decision has been taken as a precautionary measure to ensure safety of students, faculty, and staff amid rising water levels and ongoing relief efforts.

Bhakra and Pong dams near danger levels, prompting evacuations in Ropar. Sutlej, Beas, Ravi rivers are also swollen. The discharge in the Sutlej River from Harike and Hussainiwala has been categorised as a high flood alert. The Patiala district administration has also issued an alert for the residents living near the Ghaggar river in the Rajpura. The district administration of SAS Nagar (Mohali) asked residents to remain cautious along the banks of the Ghaggar river.

The IMD has issued red alert for rain in several districts across Punjab, including Kapurthala, Jalandhar, Nawanshahr, Rupnagar, Moga, Ludhiana, Barnala, and Sangrur.

FLOOD WREAKS HAVOC IN MULTIPLE STATES

- 66 deaths and 31 missing in cloudburst, flash floods overnight in J&K district
- Telecom operators in Punjabasked to ensure uninterrupted connectivity in Punjab
- Alerts issued in Patiala (Ghaggar river) and SAS Nagar (Mohali), and residents are asked to move to a safer space

4 of a family killed in HP house collapse

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

SEVEN people, including four from one family, lost their lives, and one remains missing after a landslide struck Jangambag in Mandi district, Himachal Pradesh, damaging two houses in Sundernagar. A passerby was also trapped, said sources. Three bodies were recovered last night, while four more were found this morning during the search operation, raising the toll to seven. The deceased have been identified as 35-year-old Gurpreet Singh, his wife Bharti (30), their three-year-old daughter Kirat, Shanti Devi (70) and Surender Kaur (56). The sixth victim was an unidentified man who was going on a two-wheeler when the landslide took place. Another man identified as Rahil was trapped in the debris with his vehicle.

The teams from the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF), State Disaster Response Force (SDRF), District Disaster Management Authority (DDMA) and local police carried out a rescue operation which continued throughout the night under floodlights as rescuers were fighting the harsh weather to remove boulders.

It is learned that as a precautionary measure, nearby houses have been vacated, fearing landslides as the hillside is unstable. Superintendent of Police of Mandi, Sakshi Verma, said that the locals have heard loud rumbling noises moments before the hillside collapsed, thus engulfing houses in the vicinity. A rescue operation was launched immediately after the incident; all six bodies have been recovered from the debris."

In Kullu district, a late-night landslide hit a residential area in inner Akhara Bazaar, damaging a house and leaving two people feared trapped under debris. One person managed to escape through a window moments before the mud and boulders struck. Rescue operations are underway, but the two missing individuals have not yet been found. The area has been cordoned off, and nearby residents have been advised to evacuate their houses. The heavy downpour continues to affect rescue operations.

Chenab & Jhelum above flood level

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

KISHTWAR district of Jammu and Kashmir, where about 66 people were killed and 31 are still missing in cloudburst and flash floods triggered by heavy rain last month, is highly vulnerable to glacial lake outburst floods (GLOFs), posing a serious threat to human lives, power projects, roads, schools, hospitals, religious places and agriculture, warned the GLOF Disaster Management Plan for Kishtwar in its latest report.

Kishtwar, which lies in the heart of the Western Himalayas, bordered by the Pir Panjal range to the south and the Zanskar range to the north, has the highest number of glacial lakes in J&K, with 197, which accounts for 36.08% of all glacial lakes in the UT.

These glaciers contribute to river systems through melting during the summer months. The GLOF Disaster Management has identified at least four glaciers – Mundiksar, Hangu Lake and Patla Pani – as high risk and moderate risk to GLOF due to climate-induced melting.

It warned that the presence of multiple glacial lakes at varying elevations and their proximity to each other heightens the risk of outburst floods, which could be triggered by factors such as rapid ice melt, landslides, or seismic activity.

DFO alleges Cong MLA asked for money

Divisional forest officer (DFO), Neha Srivastava posted in a tribal-dominated district of MP, has written to top bosses of the forest department, alleging that the local Congress MLA Anubha Munjare demanded ₹2 to ₹3 lakh as 'illicit monetary gratification' from her. Not only did the legislator demand money from the DFO, but she also used intemperate and derogatory language about the forest department official as well as her family, she complained. The forest department has subsequently constituted a committee headed by an official of the rank of additional principal chief conservator of forests (APCCF) to probe the matter.

MP plans Ujjain-Indore-Pithampur metro corridor

The Madhya Pradesh government is planning a metro rail corridor between the holy city of Ujjain and the industrial town of Pithampur via Indore. The state cabinet meeting, chaired by CM Dr Mohan Yadav, has recently approved consultancy fees of ₹9 lakh per km (plus GST) for the preparation of the Detailed Project Report (DPR) of the project. The Delhi Metro Rail Corporation Limited (DMRC) has been assigned the consultancy work for the project. In the first phase, the metro line will cover Shri Mahakaleshwar Ujjain to Luv Kush Square in Indore, and in the second phase, it will extend from Luv Kush Square to Pithampur, according to officials.

Men Vs Women Kabaddi match triggers debate

A Kabaddi match between men and women was organised in the Niwari district on National Sports Day (August 29) triggered a political controversy. The opposition Congress strongly objected to the match, saying that it amounted to indiscipline" and questioned whether the match was held with the consent of the parents. Amid the controversy, the consent letters of the parents emerged. The ruling BJP, however, slammed the Congress for dragging sports into politics. Interestingly, the female players selected for the match had no problems with it. They said that they regularly practiced with male players at the district and state levels.

MahaYuti Maha cracks widen, minister to move court against own govt

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

CRACKS appeared in the BJP-led Mahayuti government over its decision to implement the Hyderabad Gazette and one-clan formula for Marathas to obtain Kunbi certificates and avail benefits under the OBC category. OBC leader and minister Chhagan Bhujbal said he was seeking legal opinion on the validity of the decision.

This move has also caused significant unrest among OBC community members and leaders. They claimed that the Mahayuti gave in to pressure from Maratha protestors by letting the Maratha, a dominant and influential caste, gain entry into the OBC category in an indirect way.

NCP minister and OBC leader Chhagan Bhujbal has decided to go against his own government's Government Resolution (GR) for granting reservations to the Maratha community by considering the Hyderabad Gazette and the one clan formula as evidence to establish the cast and its genealogy. He has decided to challenge some of the objectionable and sticky clauses of the state government GR.

Bhujbal stated that he and other OBC leaders are seeking a legal opinion on whether the state government and its local bodies have the right and authority to change anyone's caste and include them in a specific reservation category.

"We (OBC leaders) have doubts about the state government's GR issued for Maratha reservation as to who won after Maratha quota leader Manoj Jarange Patil's agitation. We are seeking legal opinion on whether the government is authorised to change people's caste," said an NCP minister who is vocal on OBCs. He also chose not to attend the cabinet meeting due to this issue.

Another senior Mahayuti leader said that OBC community often takes pride in its identity, and even BJP leaders during the election campaign called the OBCs the DNA of BJP. "If OBCs are the backbone of BJP, then why does it want to break its backbone by allowing Marathas to get reservations in OBC category. This is nothing but fooling the OBC community and backstabbing it. BJP came to power with the votes of the OBC, and in return, the OBCs are getting injustice. We do not know how to react and what to say against BJP decision that favoured the majority of the Maratha caste at the cost of small castes in the OBC," he said, requesting anonymity.

Raje meets Bhagwat before RSS conclave

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

THE three-day RSS national coordination meeting kicks off in Jodhpur from September 5 amid speculation sparked by the former Rajasthan CM Vasundhara Raje meeting RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat on Wednesday morning. The 20-minute meeting took place at the Adarsh Defence and Sports Academy in Lal Sagar, where Bhagwat is staying. Although the details of the meeting were not disclosed, it is believed that discussions touched on possible changes within BJP organisation in Rajasthan and the party's national leadership.

The organisers are busy with last-minute preparations for the Sangh event, with around 300 senior office-bearers from 32 RSS-linked organisations expected to participate in the three-day event, which will focus on issues of national unity, security, and social change.

Officials from across the country will begin arriving in Jodhpur from Wednesday night. The RSS leadership is already in the city. The team includes Mohan Bhagwat, Sarkaryavah Dattatreya Hosabale, and co-Sarkaryavahs Krishna Gopal, CR Mukunda, Arun Kumar, Ramdutt Chakradhar, Alok Kumar, and Atul Limaye. Senior functionary Manmohan Vaidya and several other national officials.

In anticipation of the gathering, the Jodhpur Police Commissionerate has banned the flying of drones in the city from Monday morning until further notice. Security has been tightened around the meeting site and at other sensitive locations, with police officials saying that the city is on high alert.

The agenda for the coordination meeting includes national security, shifting social equations, religious demography, and the RSS's centenary-year programs. Economic concerns, the situation at India's borders, the Swavalamban Abhiyan, and the issue of illegal migration are also expected to come up for discussion. According to sources, demographic issues raised by PM Narendra Modi in his Independence Day speech may also be debated.

Preparatory meetings have been underway since September 1 to set the stage for the main sessions. The formal deliberations will run from September 5 to 7, after which Bhagwat will remain in Jodhpur until September 9. During this time, several smaller meetings are scheduled, and leaders associated with Rajasthan politics are also likely to attend, giving the event added political significance in the state.

The bill aims to ensure accountability in the coaching industry. Under the new law, coaching centres with more than 100 students must register with authorities.

HC says delivery of prohibited items a crime, takes a jibe at e-com platform

EJAZ KAISER @Raipur

CHHATTISGARH High Court on Wednesday rejected a petition that sought to dismiss a case registered against employees of e-commerce store 'Flipkart' and the courier company for selling a "lethal knife" that was used to commit a murder and loot a petrol pump in July.

A division bench of the high court observed that online delivery of the prohibited items too comes under the purview of criminal offence.

The Raipur police had registered a case against Flipkart on July 19. The case was then registered against a courier agency 'Elastic Run' associated with Flipkart to deliver their products. The petitioners, who delivered the parcel and the owner of the courier agency, approached the court citing that they were innocent, as their role was meant only to provide the services under a contract, deliver packed boxes that cannot be tampered with and, therefore, sought the case registered against them be quashed.

The counsel for the petitioners further pleaded that Section 79 of the IT Act, 2000, provides a 'safeguard' to intermediaries—such as social media platforms and e-commerce sites—shielding them from liability for third-party content hosted on their platforms.

However, the advocate general on behalf of the government countered that neither anyone can sell or buy prohibited items nor can they be delivered without a license.

After hearing the arguments, the court expressed concern that the nature of criminal offence for online delivery of the prohibited products is similar to that of its manufacture or sale. The petition was dismissed by the court. The safeguard behind Section 79 of the IT Act is conditional since the immunity given can be withdrawn if there remains unlawful content and the intermediary gets the knowledge but fails to remove it.

The Raipur police arrested manager and employees of Flipkart and the courier company under the BNS section 125-B (endangering human life or personal safety).

Jumbo rescue: Elephant herd rallies to save baby from raging U'khand river

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun

A herd of elephants in Uttarakhand's Pauri district on Tuesday staged a dramatic, coordinated rescue of a calf swept away by the fierce currents of the Khoh River. The incident unfolded in the Dugadda Range of the Lansdowne Forest Division. As dusk settled, a herd of elephants ventured into the river near the Fifth Mile mark to quench their thirst. Amidst the strong flow, a young calf lost its footing and was swiftly carried downstream by the raging torrent.

Within moments, a group of seven to eight elephants thundered towards the river, trumpeting loudly to signal the emergency. "It was incredible to watch," recounted Akash Bhatia, a resident of Kotdwar, who filmed parts of the rescue on his mobile phone.

Soon, a 25-30 elephants plunged into the churning waters and pulled the struggling calf from the powerful current. Umesh Joshi, Ranger of Dugadda, said, "Around 6:30 pm, a herd of elephants descended into the Khoh River near Toot Gadera for water. A calf was swept away by the strong current. The elephants worked together and managed to pull the calf out of the flow."

Ranganath Pandey, former Deputy Director of Gangotri National Park and a Wildlife Management, highlighted their sophisticated communication abilities. "The range of human hearing in terms of frequency is typically considered to be from 20 Hz to 20,000 Hz. Elephants have a slightly different range, typically from 1 Hz to 20,000 Hz," he added.

Asia's leaders unite amid shifting global order

TOKYO: The leaders of China, North Korea and Russia stood shoulder to shoulder Wednesday as high-tech military hardware and thousands of marching soldiers filled the streets of Beijing. Two days earlier, Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Russian President Vladimir Putin and Chinese President Xi Jinping huddled together, smiling broadly and clasping hands at a meeting of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization. The gatherings in China this week could be read as a striking, maybe even defiant, message to the United States and its allies. At the very least, they signaled a growing shift from a US-led world order as Trump pulls back from global roles and disrupts trade with tariffs.

China flexes military muscle with bold, strategic new arms at parade

Parade marks WWII anniversary with Xi, senior officials, and global guests in attendance

BANGKOK

SOLDIERS in pristine and pressed uniforms marched in lockstep, their boots clacking a steady cadence on the pavement and their eyes following leader Xi Jinping as he drove by in review. Helicopters flew overhead, forming the numbers 8 and 0 in honor of the 80th anniversary of the end of World War II.

There was no shortage of pageantry at Wednesday's military parade in Beijing, but beyond the spectacle, it also provided the first good look at China's latest military hardware. New missiles, drones and other high-tech equipment have been added to its arsenal as part of a massive modernization program with the goal, according to the official parade announcers, of producing a force "with both nuclear and conventional capabilities able to deter wars in all battle spaces."

China's nuclear arsenal still lags far behind that of the United States and Russia, but it has been rapidly expanding. In its annual report to Congress on China, the US Department of Defense estimated that Beijing now has more than 600 warheads and will have more than 1,000 by 2030.

The parade saw the debut of other new missiles, including several designed to attack ships. These are likely of particular interest to the US, whose naval power is a key component of its Asia-Pacific defense strategy.

China claims the self-governing democracy of Taiwan as its own, and Xi has not ruled out taking the island by force. In the event of a Chinese invasion, if the US were to come to Taiwan's aid, China would need to hold off the US Navy long enough to consolidate control of the island.

Seven types of reconnaissance and attack aerial drones were on display that were not immediately identified by official commentators, but some of which appeared to be new.

A small surface drone ship was also on display but not identified, as well as carrier-based uncrewed helicopters.

China showcased two submarine drones, including the new AJX002, calling them "cutting-edge" weapons for stealth, blockade, and swarm attacks. AP

North Korean leader Kim Jong Un's daughter Kim Ju Ae | AP

Kim grooms daughter for bigger roles

SEOUL

NORTH Korean leader Kim Jong Un has brought his young daughter on his most significant foreign trip in years, a trip to China that marks his latest attempt to break out of isolation and bolster his position by balancing between traditional allies Moscow and Beijing.

The girl is believed to be named Kim Ju Ae and is around 12 or 13 years old. Not much else is known about her. Since 2022, Kim Jong Un has showcased her at a growing number of major public events tied to his nuclear-armed military, fueling speculation she is being primed as the country's next leader.

While North Korean state media have described Kim's daughter as "beloved" and "respected," they have never called her by name.

The assumption that the girl's name is Ju Ae is based on an account by former NBA champion Dennis Rodman where he recalled holding Kim Jong Un's baby daughter during a trip to Pyongyang in 2013. AP

Dozens of bodies recovered from landslide-hit village in Darfur; Pope calls for aid

CAIRO

SEARCH teams have recovered around 100 bodies from a remote village that is feared to have been wiped out by a devastating landslide over the weekend in Sudan's western region of Darfur, a rebel group said Wednesday. The Sudan Liberation Movement-Army has said the death toll from the Aug. 31 landslide in Tarasin, in the Marrah Mountains, could be as high as 1,000.

Mohamed Abdel-Rahman al-Nair, a spokesman for the group, told The Associated Press that about 100 bodies were recovered on Tuesday. He said search efforts were underway amid lack of resources and equipment.

Pope Leo XIV has called for a coordinated response to stop "this humanitarian catastrophe" in Sudan. The United Nations' Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs, OCHA, said that the death toll and the full scale of the tragedy have yet to be confirmed due to the scene being "extremely hard to reach."

The UN has said that "between 300-1,000 people may have lost their lives" in the landslide and that efforts were mobilized to support the impacted area, located more than 900 kilometers west of the capital, Khartoum. Pope Leo XIV spoke of the tragedy during his weekly address on Wednesday, saying it has left "behind pain and despair."

He called for "a coordinated response to stop this humanitarian catastrophe," and initiate a "serious, sincere, and inclusive dialogue between the parties to end the conflict and restore hope, dignity, and peace to the people of Sudan."The Marrah Mountains region is a volcanic area with a height of more than 3,000 meters (9,840 feet) at its summit.

The mountain chain is a world heritage site, and is known for its lower temperature and higher rainfall than its surroundings, according to UNICEF. A small-scale landslide hit the area in 2018, killing at least 19 people dead and injuring dozens others, according to the now-disbanded United Nations-African Union mission in Darfur. AP

UN peacekeepers nearly hit by Israeli drones

BEIRUT

ISRAELI drones dropped four grenades close to UN peacekeepers in southern Lebanon near the border with Israel as they were working to clear roadblocks, the force said Wednesday. No one was hurt in the attack.The peacekeeping force known as UNIFIL described the Tuesday morning incident as "one of the most serious attacks on UNIFIL personnel and assets" since the cessation of hostilities in November that ended the 14-month Israel-Hezbollah war. The Israeli military said later Wednesday that it did not intentionally target the peacekeepers but dropped several sonic bombs near a suspect in a border area. It added that contact was made with the peacekeeping force and explained the details of what happened. UNIFIL said one grenade hit within 20 meters (65 feet) and three others within approximately 100 meters (330 feet) of UN personnel and vehicles, adding the drones were observed returning toward Israel. UNIFIL said Israel was informed in advance of its road clearance near Marwahin, close to the border. AP

ASIA MATTERS

META TOLD TO CRACK DOWN ON SCAMMERS

Singapore will order Meta to crack down on scammers impersonating government officials on Facebook, the top platform for such fraud. Cases of government official impersonation scams rose 200% in the first half of 2025, causing losses of S$126 million. Minister Goh Pei Ming warned Meta faces fines up to S$1 million if it fails to act. Scammers used deepfakes of officials, including Prime Minister Lawrence Wong, to promote fake schemes. This marks the first time police will require a platform to tackle scams. Meta uses facial recognition and legal action.

RULING PHEU THAI SEEKS SNAP POLLS

Thailand's political crisis deepened as the opposition People's Party backed rival leader Anutin Charnvirakul for prime minister, while the ruling Pheu Thai party requested Parliament's dissolution and a new election. The country has been under a caretaker government since Paetongtarn Shinawatra was dismissed for ethical violations. Anutin's support hinges on holding elections within four months and starting constitutional reforms. The king must approve any dissolution, but legal advisers say a caretaker PM can only request it after a deadlocked vote.

Suicide bomber targets rally in Quetta, 13 dead

QUETTA

A suicide bomber blew himself up outside a stadium on Tuesday night as supporters of a nationalist party were leaving a rally in insurgency-hit southwest Pakistan, killing at least 13 people and wounding 30 others, police and hospital officials said on Wednesday.

Local police chief Majeed Qaisrani said the blast occurred near a graveyard close to the stadium on the outskirts of Quetta, the capital of Balochistan province. The body parts of the attacker were recovered, he said.

Waseem Baig, a spokesman for a government hospital, said it had received 13 bodies and dozens of wounded, some in critical condition. There was no immediate claim of responsibility for the attack.

The rally was held to mark the anniversary of the death of Sardar Ataullah Mengal, a veteran nationalist leader and former provincial chief minister. The leader of the Balochistan National Party, Akhtar Mengal, was unharmed in the attack but some of his supporters were among the dead and wounded, senior police officer Usama Ameen said. Mengal is a vocal critic of the government and often holds rallies to demand the release of missing Baloch nationalists. AP

UAE warns West Bank annexation is red line

Israeli soldiers drive a tank inside the Gaza Strip as seen from southern Israel | AP

DEIR AL-BALAH

THE United Arab Emirates on Wednesday warned that any Israeli move to annex the occupied West Bank would be a "red line," without specifying its possible impact on the landmark normalisation accord between the two countries,

The warning came as Israel pressed ahead with the initial stages of its latest major offensive, in famine-stricken Gaza City. Israeli strikes across the Gaza Strip overnight and into Wednesday killed at least 31 people, according to local hospitals. Israelis took part in nationwide demonstrations to protest the call-up of 60,000 reserves for the expanded operation, which has sparked global condemnation and left the country increasingly isolated.

The demonstrators accused Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu of prolonging the fighting for political purposes instead of reaching a ceasefire deal with Hamas that would free hostages taken in the October 7, 2023, attack that ignited the war. The UAE was the driving force behind the 2020 Abraham Accords brokered by US President Donald Trump, in which it and three other Arab countries forged ties with Israel. Trump has said he hopes to expand the accords in his second term, potentially to include regional power Saudi Arabia.

GST Council: Easy registration for small biz

Applicants with monthly output tax liability of up to ₹2.5L will be eligible; simplified scheme for e-comm suppliers

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

THE 56th meeting of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) Council on Tuesday approved several measures aimed at easing compliance and facilitating trade, including faster refunds, simplified registration schemes, and clarity on post-sale discounts. Most of these reforms will be operational from November 1, 2025.

For ease of doing business, a simplified GST registration scheme will be introduced for small and low-risk applicants, allowing automated registration within three working days. Applicants with monthly output tax liability of up to ₹2.5 lakh on business-to-business (B2B) supplies will be eligible, covering nearly 96% of new registrants. A separate simplified registration scheme for small e-commerce suppliers operating across multiple states was also approved in principle.

One of the key decisions was to sanction risk-based provisional refunds for exporters and suppliers to special economic zones (SEZs). Under the revised framework, 90% of refund claims will be released provisionally based on system-identified risk parameters, while only high-risk cases will undergo detailed scrutiny. A similar provision has been extended to refund claims arising from inverted duty structure (IDS), ensuring quicker release of funds to businesses.

The Council also approved an amendment to the CGST Act to remove threshold limit for refunds on low-value export consignments, a move likely to benefit small exporters using courier and postal modes. The Council recommended omission of Section 13(8)(b) of the IGST Act, which deems the place of supply for intermediary services to be in India. With this change, such services will be treated as exports if the recipient is located abroad, enabling service providers to claim export benefits.

On post-sale discounts, the Council cleared amendments to Sections 15 and 34 of the CGST Act, removing earlier requirement of pre-supply agreements and linking discounts to invoices. Discounts will be allowed through GST credit notes, with corresponding input tax credit (ITC) reversals. The government will rescind its June 2024 circular on the issue and issue a fresh clarification to remove ambiguities. Among other decisions, the Council recommended retail sale price (RSP)-based valuation for sin goods like pan masala, cigarettes, gutkha, and chewing tobacco, to plug revenue leakages.

Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman, briefing reporters after the meeting, said the measures reflect the government's focus on making GST simpler, faster, and more predictable.

"These reforms will especially help small businesses, exporters, and labour-intensive sectors," she said.

The Goods and Services Tax Appellate Tribunal (GSTAT) will be made operational for accepting appeals before the end of September and will commence hearing before the end of December this year.

GSTAT to be operational by September-end

Relief for small cars; 40% GST on large cars

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE Goods and Services Tax (GST) Council on Wednesday reduced levies on small cars and mass-market motorcycles (engine size below 350cc). However, premium cars, including sports utility vehicles (SUVs), will attract 40% GST. The Council made no changes to the GST rate (5%) for electric vehicles (EVs) across segments. In a blow to Royal Enfield and other premium bikemakers, the rate on motorcycles with engine capacity exceeding 350cc has been increased from 28% to 40%. Plug-in hybrid vehicles with larger engine capacity or longer body length also fall in the 40% tax bracket.

The Council clarified that GST on petrol, LPG, or CNG-driven motor vehicles with engine capacity not exceeding 1200cc and length not exceeding 4000 mm will be reduced from 28% to 18%. Most small cars, compact sedans, and entry-level SUVs fall in this category. A similar cut applies to diesel-driven vehicles with engine capacity not exceeding 1500cc and length not exceeding 4000 mm. For two-wheelers, motorcycles (including mopeds and auxiliary motor cycles) with engine capacity up to 350cc will also see GST reduced from 28% to 18%.

The reduction in levies on small cars and motorcycles is likely to benefit automakers like Maruti Suzuki, Hyundai, Tata Motors, and most two-wheeler makers. Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman said the revised rates will take effect from September 22, 2025. Additionally, a 10% reduction will apply to motor vehicles cleared as ambulances, road tractors for semi-trailers with engine capacity above 1800cc, and three-wheeled vehicles. On the other hand, the GST rate on most SUVs and premium sedans has been raised sharply—from 28% to 40%. This applies to petrol vehicles with engine capacity exceeding 1200cc or length exceeding 4000 mm, as well as diesel vehicles with engine capacity above 1500cc and length over 4000 mm.

> The rationalisation measures will not only provide instant relief to households but also strengthen key sectors like automobiles, agri, healthcare, renewable energy, and MSMEs

Jane Street moves SAT, seeks access to Sebi probe docs

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ New Delhi

TWO months after capital markets regulator Sebi had banned Wall Street from the markets with a huge penalty, the Wall Street high-frequency trader on Wednesday moved the Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT) alleging that the regulator withheld key information while investigating claims of index manipulation by the group.

Wall Street has not challenged the punitive actions but sought a direction from the tribunal to direct the regulator to release relevant documents so that it can rebut the allegations of market manipulation against it. The tribunal is set to hear the matter next Monday.

Jane Street and Sebi did not confirm or deny the development, an official with one of the law firms representing the US trader has confirmed the development and the hearing date (Sept 8) to TNIE, but requested not name him or his law firm.

"Yes, Jane Street filed an appeal on Wednesday at the SAT seeking to direct Sebi to release relevant documents so that it can rebut the allegations of market manipulation against it," the person said.

The Sebi had on July 3 temporarily barred Jane Street from trading for alleged manipulation of indices, primarily the Bank Nifty on expiry days.

Accusing Sebi of refusing to allow full inspection of all relevant and relied upon materials, it said while it was inspecting some of the documents the Sebi had relied on to issue the interim order by whole-time member Ananth Narayan G, it came across an internal surveillance report of Sebi in December 2024 that had been unable to conclude manipulation by Jane Street entities in the two key indexes.

According to the source, all the four entities representing Jane Street have moved the SAT.

One of the key contentions of Jane Street is that Sebi's own integrated surveillance department (ISD) and the National Stock Exchange (NSE) had previously concluded that there was no manipulation, and in spite of these findings, the Sebi had formed a new team and reversed its stance without explanation, according to a Reuters report.

In its appeal, Jane Street said, "the impugned orders have been issued in gross derogation of the provisions of the Sebi Act and of the ratio of numerous judgments of various courts, including the Supreme Court, the Bombay High Court, and the tribunal itself. The impugned orders have been passed by the respondent in complete contravention of the well-settled principles of equity, justice, and good conscience," the agency report said.

Swiggy raises platform fees to ₹15 per order

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

OVER the past few weeks, food delivery players Swiggy and Zomato have substantially raised their platform charges as part of their efforts to ensure profitability and counter rising operating costs. The fee hike comes ahead of the festive season when they experience a sharp surge in order.

Swiggy has raised its platform fee to ₹15 per order in certain cities, third revision in three weeks. Earlier hikes saw charges move from ₹12 to ₹14. This is the steepest rise since April 2023, when the fee was first introduced at ₹2 per order. With Swiggy processing over 20 lakh orders daily, new pricing may bring in revenue of ₹3 crore a day, ₹54 crore quarterly, and ₹216 crore annually. Zomato has raised its fee, moving from ₹10 to ₹12 per order.

SOP FOR CRITICAL MINERAL RECYCLING

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

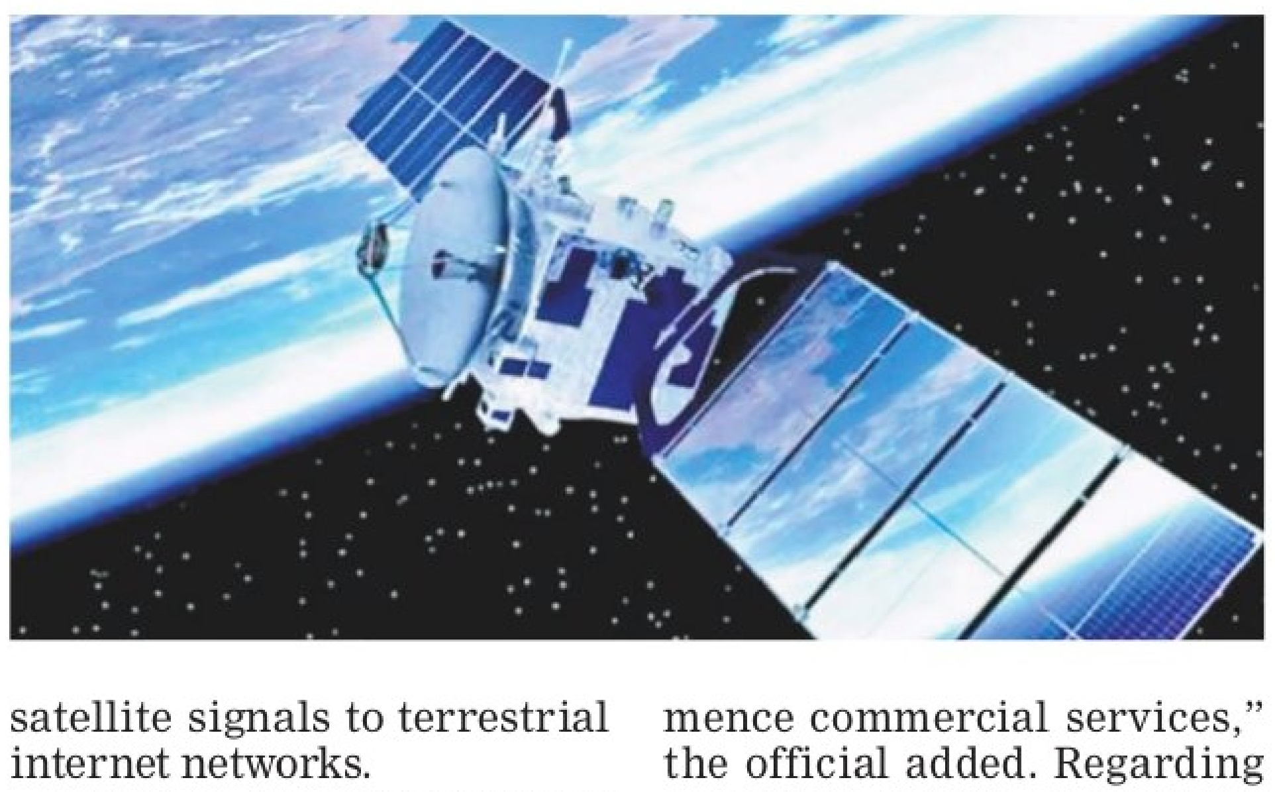
THE Centre on Wednesday approved a ₹1,500 crore incentive scheme on critical minerals from secondary sources or used products.

As per the Ministry of Mines, critical minerals such as rare earth magnets will be obtained from lithium-ion battery (LIB) scrap and other non-e-waste scrap such as catalytic converters from end-of-life vehicles. The incentives are expected to help develop 270 kilo tonne of annual recycling capacity, resulting in 40 kilo tonne of critical mineral production a year. "A prudent way to ensure supply chain sustainability in near term is through recycling of secondary sources," said the ministry. The scheme will have a tenure of six years, from FY26 to FY31. "The scheme is likely to bring ₹8,000 crore in investments and 70,000 direct and indirect employment opportunities. The scheme is part of the National Critical Mineral Mission (NCMM) aimed at building domestic capacity building and supply chain resilience in critical minerals furthering AtmaNirBharta," said coal and mine minister G Kishan reddy. The scheme will apply to investments in new units as well as in expansion, modernisation, or diversification of existing units. Incentives will be provided for recycling value chain involved in extraction of key minerals, and not for portion of value chain limited to black mass production.

The incentives will include a 20% capital expenditure subsidy on plant and machinery, equipment, and associated utilities for units starting production within a specified timeframe.

Starlink receives spectrum for broadband trial

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi



ELON MUSK-led Starlink has received provisional spectrum to begin satellite broadband services trial in India, ahead of a full-scale commercial launch.

As per the Department of Telecommunications (DoT), Starlink will initially set up satellite broadband infrastructure at 10 locations across India, with Mumbai serving as central hub. "Starlink got a provisional spectrum to provide satellite broadband services in India a few days ago. It has initial plans to set up base stations at 10 locations in India, with its hub in Mumbai," a DoT official said.

With the trial spectrum in hand, Starlink is now required to build its ground infrastructure and demonstrate compliance with India's security regulations through testing and trials. However, the official added that the company is still awaiting arrival of critical equipment, including landing station hardware that connects satellite signals to terrestrial internet networks.

However, full-scale services will only begin after final spectrum allocation. "The Digital Communications Commission (DCC), the top decision-making body of the DoT, will soon hold a meeting to finalise pricing and other details. Once that takes place, we will send our recommendations to TRAI (Telecom Regulatory Authority of India). Then DoT will allocate spectrum to these players after which companies can commence commercial services," the official added. Regarding customer pricing, the official said Starlink's services in India will be more affordable than those in neighbouring countries like Bhutan and Bangladesh, where users currently pay about ₹3,000 a month, along with an installation fee of ₹30,000.

"I believe Starlink's pricing in India will be lower—about two-thirds of what it charges in Bhutan and Bangladesh—due to significantly larger customer base here," the official said.

Satcom enables transmission of data and voice through satellites, especially in areas where laying fiber-optic cables is impractical. It is particularly valuable in remote, mountainous, or disaster-prone regions where traditional infrastructure is expensive or impossible to deploy. Starlink has been attempting to enter Indian satellite broadband market since 2021. It had started accepting pre-orders before getting regulatory approval, prompting the government to instruct it to refund customers. Starlink operates in over 125 countries. However, application from Jeff Bezos-owned Amazon Kuiper is pending approval. Apple's Satcom partner Globalstar is among global players exploring opportunities to offer satellite broadband services in India.

Starlink partnered with the Unique Identification Authority of India (UIDAI) to enable seamless Aadhaar-based customer verification for its services.

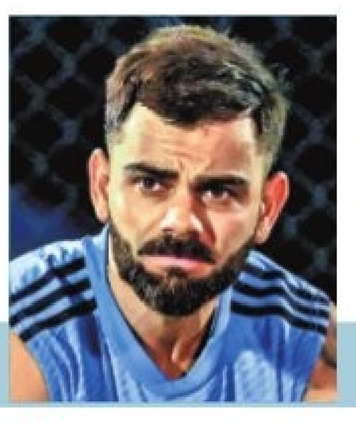
Kohli reflects on B'luru stampede



India and RCB star Virat Kohli opened up about the June 4 stampede during his franchise's IPL victory celebrations in Bengaluru, saying "nothing in life really prepares you for the heartbreak" of 11 deaths on what should have been the happiest day for his side. "What should've been the happiest moment in our franchise's history... turned into something tragic," Kohli was quoted as saying by RCB on its 'X' handle.

STATE OF AFFAIRS ON AND OFF THE FIELD

Ongoing men's Asia Cup hockey tournament in Rajgir a constant reminder of what time this is in region of Bihar — election season

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Rajgir

IN this historical town, named thus as it served as the first capital of the Magadha Empire, it's impossible to walk 25m without being reminded of the chief minister. Nitish Kumar is on electric poles, he's on billboards, he's on walls overlooking intersections, he's on balloons... he's also on the side of the buses ferrying the eight Asia Cup teams between the venue and the team hotels. It's very much election season in Bihar and you are reminded of it whether you seek it or not. On the front pages of the newspapers, there's multiple pieces on the state election (it's expected to go to the polls across phases in October and November). The morning news on the radio had tidbits about it. The cabbie at Patna airport spoke about the ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR) ahead of the polls.

First impression of Rajgir. Nitish Kumar could be seen everywhere including the team bus | EXPRESS

And, slap bang in the middle of it all, is the Asia Cup, with one World Cup spot up for grabs. Hosting international hockey meets used to be the exclusive domain of Bhubaneswar but Tamil Nadu (one; men's Asian Champions Trophy), Ranchi (one; women's Olympic qualifiers) and Bihar (one; women's Asian Champions Trophy before the ongoing tournament) have hosted international competitions over the last few years. It shows hockey in a good light in that state governments want to use it as a tool to unite the hoi polloi. Tamil Nadu significantly upgraded their existing infrastructure at Chennai to host that event in 2023. In two months' time, they will welcome a part of the hockey community for the junior World Cup in Chennai and Madurai (the stadium there is expected to be completed by the end of September). Ranchi has always had a hockey culture and welcomed the women's team in 2024. Now, Odisha (one of the biggest sponsors of both hockey teams) is expected to play host but the expanding hockey footprint across the country is hard to ignore.

Why is Bihar hosting this event? Raveendran Sankaran, an IPS officer tasked with changing the face of the state's sporting ecosystem -- his official designation is DG, Bihar State Sports Authority -- does understand why the elections have been hyphenated with that of the Asia Cup but 'I beg to differ'. "It (decision to host it) wasn't election oriented," he says. "This event was decided on the back of the women's ACT. After that meet, Hockey India approached us. That day itself, we spoke to the government."

The tournament, Sankaran says, is linked to Bihar wanting to reestablish themselves on India's inequitable sporting map. "Sport has become a priority for the state of Bihar," the Coimbatore-raised bureaucrat says. "If this tournament had happened in haste, you can say it's because of elections. But we have been doing it for over two years now." Under Sankaran's watch — it was considered a punishment posting when he accepted the gig in 2022 — the state sports budget has jumped from ₹30cr to over ₹680cr. They have also hosted other events and are betting big on infra to transform Rajgir, a town with a lot of symbolism and cultural heritage but little in terms of sport, as a sporting destination. The hockey venue, for example, sits in a giant but cutely designed sprawling 99.7 acre sporting complex built at the cost of ₹600cr.

India held as South Korea show intent

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Rajgir

IF coach Craig Fulton thought their 15-0 win over Kazakhstan was the necessary tonic for his team to rediscover their mojo, he would have to think again. A 2-2 draw to kickstart the Super 4s stage of the Asia Cup may not be a disaster but it continued a particular theme of the Men in Blue in recent months.

Vast sections of the match showcased everything that has gone wrong with this Indian side over the last few months. Critical match-shifting errors, an inability to finish chances and allowing the opponents to dictate the pace of the play.

There are multiple ways to dress up a draw against a side ranked 15th in the world but every path will lead to one uncomfortable conclusion — India, Asia's powerhouse over the last decade, aren't the prohibitive favourites they were made out to be at the start of the tournament. The draw has also magnified a sense of jeopardy into proceedings, if you are of an Indian persuasion.

Before the game, significant electrical activity over Rajgir meant the match had to be pushed back by over 50 minutes. A brief but heavy storm rolled through town and it challenged the drainage system at the brand new stadium. Once the lightning stopped, the small but atmospheric stadium was heaving, a few thousands jiving to popular numbers from Bhojpuri and Hindi movies.

Action from India vs South Korea match in Rajgir on Wednesday | PTI

That, though, was when the hosts were leading 1-0 courtesy a smartly taken goal from Hardik Singh, the team's oxygen. A perfect storm meant South Korean, ranked 15th in the world, first equalised before taking the lead, both via unforced errors in the D. For the first, Jugraj Singh was adjudged to have deliberately pushed a Korean body. For the second, a stray ball found Manpreet Singh's foot.

A 1-0 lead in the eighth minute had become a 1-2 deficit in the 14th minute. In hockey, losing leads and conceding multiple goals inside small periods comes with the territory, an occupational hazard. Previous avatars of this Indian team, though, knew what they had to do. They would dust themselves up, shrug their shoulders and get on with it.

But the team ranked 7th have displayed a sort of vulnerable streak when the scoreboard is against them. It's why even though their performances wasn't all that bad in the European leg of the Pro League, the results were iffy, not exactly a clarion call but a gentle nudge, a 6.30 AM alarm.

In the end, they did create chances but a profligacy of the forward line meant they couldn't capitalise on some lackadaisical defending.

Duleep semis: Iyer & Jaiswal in focus

GOMESH S @Chennai

EVEN as the Indian men's team are getting ready to leave for the Asia Cup in the United Arab Emirates, several star players will be taking the field in the Duleep Trophy semifinals from Thursday. Shardul Thakur's West Zone will be facing Rajat Patidar-led Central Zone while Mohammed Azharuddeen will captain South Zone in the other clash against North Zone at the BCCI Centre of Excellence grounds. While some of the players like Arshdeep Singh, Kuldeep Yadav and others have left after the quarterfinals, all eyes on Thursday will be on Shreyas Iyer, who will be turning up for West Zone. Iyer has been the talk of the town since he was omitted for the upcoming Asia Cup. The Mumbaikar had a sensational Indian Premier League, leading Punjab Kings to the final.

Before that, he was the star batter for India in the Champions Trophy triumph. Last year, he smashed 480 runs in seven innings at an average of 68.57, including a double century in the Ranji Trophy. Coming into the season, Iyer will be keen to make a statement with his bat, as he has been over the last year or so. While Sarfaraz Khan is not expected to play because of injury concerns, Yashasvi Jaiswal will be opening for West Zone. The youngster, too, would be wanting to maintain the good form he showed in England. Apart from the India internationals, this match also offers a chance to someone like Ruturaj Gaikwad, who is entering the tie after hitting a century in the Buchi Babu tournament. The Maharashtra batter has not broken down the selection doors with his performance and he would want to take this as a new beginning and put on a show. Same can be said for Rajat Patidar, who was replacing Virat Kohli during the England series at home last year. He will have to climb up the pecking order with his performances.

FIXTURES

North vs South,
Central vs West

Venue: BCCI CoE, Bengaluru

Dates: Sept 4-7

As far as Devdutt Padikkal is concerned, he missed out a fair bit of chances due to a hamstring injury sustained during the IPL season. This will be a litmus test for the Karnataka batter, especially in the absence of R Sai Kishore and Tilak Varma in the side. The South Zone batter will have to shoulder the responsibilities of being an India player while the rest bat around him. It is a side filled with domestic performers from Kerala, Andhra, Hyderabad and other southern states, but neither B Sai Sudharsan nor the likes of KL Rahul and Md Siraj were included in the side.

Fund boost for Indian Oly body

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

FINALLY, months after withholding payments, the International Olympic Committee (IOC) and IOC Solidarity have decided to resume payments to the Indian Olympic Association (IOA). The IOA said this in a statement on Wednesday. The IOC had withheld the funding in October last year because of internal dispute in the IOA and for not appointing a Chief Executive Officer (CEO) even after an executive board meeting in January last year.

According to the IOA, in a letter addressed to the president IOA, the IOC has commended the positive measures taken by the IOA and the Indian government to strengthen the sporting ecosystem and support athletes at every level, from grassroots to elite. The IOC was quite peeved with the way IOA was functioning especially after IOA president PT Usha and the committee had recommended the appointment of Raghuram Iyer as the CEO in January last year. Majority of the EC members revolted against Usha and things spiraled out of control with both parties throwing barbs at each other.

PT Usha

However, with India showing immense interest to host the Olympic Games in 2036 and also the 2030 Commonwealth Games, such a situation in the National Olympic Committee became untenable. The IOC has also made it clear that a strong NOC is required to present a successful bid. Finally, the CEO's appointment was ratified by an EC meeting and subsequently a special general meeting was convened last month in New Delhi to ratify 2030 CWG's bid. According to IOA, key developments were the formal appointment of Iyer as the IOA's CEO and the adoption of the National Sports Governance Act by the Government of India.

GRAND AMBITION FOR INDIA CHESS PLAYERS

With the FIDE Grand Swiss beginning in Samarkand on Wednesday, a look at what the tournament is about and why it's important for next year's Candidates.

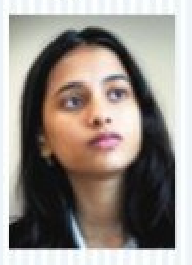
TWO SPOTS IN NEXT YEAR'S CANDIDATES

At some level, the last edition of the Grand Swiss in 2023, kickstarted India's current bull run in chess. Vidit Gujrathi and R Vaishali won their respective events to rubber-stamp their Candidates qualification. The top-two finishers in both Open and women will receive direct qualification spots for next year's Candidates in 2025. But the gruelling nature of the event -- only the best of the best feature in this -- means it won't be an easy.

PRAGG THE CIRCUIT LEADER

R Praggnanandhaa heads India's charge. He's the player to beat and enjoys a superior Circuit lead so he doesn't even need to top this event to maintain his lead. But he knows that if he does this top this elite field, he can train his mind towards the Candidates right now.

DIVYA IN OPEN SECTION



Divya Deshmukh, who has qualified for next year's women's Candidates after winning the women's World Cup, will be featuring in the Open section. She could have featured in the women's Grand Swiss but eschewed that. Alexandra Goryachkina will also be doing likewise.

GUKESH IN BUT HUMPY OUT

World Champion D Gukesh, who has had a bit of a mixed bag in terms of results, will be taking part. He will look to get back to playing some solid chess in a field stacked with Indians (14 excluding him) in the Open section. In the women's section, Koneru Humpy is giving this event a miss. The three Indians there would be D Harika, R Vaishali and Vantika Agrawal.

FORMAT

11 Round Swiss system

Classical: 100 minutes for the first 40 moves, 50 for the next 20 and 15 for the rest of the game; 30-second increment from the first move

Open and women's tournament to be held side by side

116 players in the Open event

56 in the women's event

Worlds: Big bouts await Lovlina & Co

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

LIVERPOOL, the iconic port city in Northwest England, is well-renowned for its music culture, its football clubs and is a place seeped in history. Elite amateur boxers from around will get an opportunity of lifetime to make the city part of their folklore. A bunch of Indian pugilists, including Olympic medallists Lovlina Borgohain and Nikhat Zareen, will also be chasing glory in the days to come.

The World Boxing Championships 2025 is set to take place at the M&S Bank Arena in the city from September 4-14.

Following the disastrous Paris Games campaign and the long election process, which put the boxers in the backseat, this event holds significant weight for the Indian boxers.

Lovlina and Nikhat need no introductions. The duo has been a force to reckon with over the years and they'll be hopeful of leaving a strong impression during the championships. Pooja Rani is another Indian in the women's corner with wealth of experience. Jasmine Lamboria and Sakhi Chaudhary also have a fair bit of experience and they'll be intent on making the most of this opportunity.

TNCA President's XI one hit away from glory

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

RIDING on Man of the Match P Vidyuth's 7 for 73, TNCA President's XI bagged a lead of 337 runs over Jammu & Kashmir. The visitors conceded the match on the final day of the semifinals of the All India Buchi Babu Invitation Tournament played at the CSK-HPC grounds here on Wednesday. TNCA President's XI will face defending champions Hyderabad in the final, starting on Saturday. Resuming at the overnight total of 212, J&K were all out for 230. The J&K middle-order caved in to the guile of Vidyuth, who looked unplayable on Wednesday.

P Vidyuth

Tamil Nadu Ranji chief coach and TNCA President's XI coach M Senthilnathan attributed teamwork as the reason for his team's win over J&K. "It was a brilliant performance by our boys. Vidyuth bowled brilliantly. He was literally unplayable. One expected the game to go for more than the first session on the final day, but Vidyuth with his penetrative bowling picked up wickets at the drop of a hat,'' complimented Senthilnathan. Vidyuth was delighted with his match-winning effort. "Very happy and glad to contribute to the team's cause. Felt very good. It's been a long wait for this (match winning performance),'' said Vidyuth after the game.

The hosts spinners plan was to bowl in tandem as the surface was helping the tweakers. They decided not to try anything big and go with the flow. "Actually the wicket started to play to the tune of the spinners in the morning. So we bowled really well in partnerships. That was the plan," revealed Vidyuth.

"Then myself, Vignesh P and Hemchudeshan J, bowled really well and tight to put the Jammu and Kashmir team in a spot of bother. Since we were accurate, the runs were hard to come for them and they started making mistakes,'' added the genial spinner. Brief scores: At CSK HPC: TNCA President's XI 567/9 decl. bt Jammu & Kashmir 230 in 74 ovs (Yawar Hassan 84, Musaif Aijaz 36, Abdul Samad 75, P Vidyuth 7/73, J Hemchudeshan 2/78). (After playing the first innings, J&K had conceded the match). At Guru Nanak: Hyderabad 225 and 254 bt Haryana 208 & 181 in 62.4 ovs (Lakshya Dalal 36, Himanshu Rana 46, Dheeru Singh 35, Nitin Sai Yadav 7/44).

Clash of titans: Alcaraz to take on Djokovic in semifinals

AGENCIES @New York

CARLOS Alcaraz finger-wagged the crowd, beat Jiri Lehecka to the net and cruised into the semifinals at the US Open.

The second-seeded Spaniard beat Lehecka 6-4, 6-2, 6-4 in the quarterfinals on Tuesday, making some highlight-reel shots and putting his hand to his ear afterward to encourage more cheers from fans at Arthur Ashe Stadium. It's his first hard-court semifinal appearance at a major since winning his first Grand Slam title at the U.S. Open in 2023. "I kind of met the Grand Slam version of Carlos," Lehecka said. "He just showed that he is one of the contenders, for sure. Everyone knew that, and he proved that."

Alcaraz is just 22 years old and is in the semifinals at a major for the ninth time. Only Rafael Nadal with 10 has more before turning 23. Next up for Alcaraz is Novak Djokovic, the 24-time Grand Slam champion who knocked him out of the Australian Open quarterfinals in January and beat him for the gold medal at the Paris Olympics last year. Djokovic got past Taylor Fritz 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4 at night. Alcaraz would supplant Jannik Sinner — whom he lost to in the Wimbledon final and beat in the French Open final — atop the rankings if he wins the US Open for a second time.

The tie between Novak Djokovic (L) & Carlos Alcaraz will be their 5th at a Major | AFP

On the women's side, Jessica Pegula broke through her quarterfinal wall again at the U.S. Open, defeating Barbora Krejcikova 6-3, 6-3 to get to the semifinals at a Grand Slam tournament for just the second time in her career. She failed to advance into the semis in her first 22 main draw appearances at a major before reaching the final at Flushing Meadows a year ago, when she lost to Aryna Sabalenka. They'll meet again in the semifinals on Thursday after Sabalenka advanced in a walkover when Marketa Vondrousova withdrew because of injury.

Results: Men (Q/F): C Alcaraz (ESP x2) bt J Lehecka (CZE x20) 6-4, 6-2, 6-4; N Djokovic (SRB x7) bt T Fritz (USA x4) 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4. Women (Q/F): A Sabalenka (BLR x1) bt M Vondrousova (CZE) - walkover; J Pegula (USA x4) bt B Krejcikova (CZE) 6-3, 6-3.

ROCKA-LOLLA ROLL

Indie musician Rudy Mukta from Bengaluru is on cloud nine as she joins the exciting lineup of artistes announced for music festival Lollapalooza India 2026

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

MUSIC enthusiasts have been abuzz with excitement with the recent Lollapalooza India 2026 lineup announcement confirming that Linkin Park would headline the major music festival, along with popular international acts like Playboi Carti, Yungblud, Kehlani, and Fujii Kaze, among others. The thrill is equally high down south, with Bengaluru Hudugi Rudy Mukta being one of the artists to perform in Mumbai in January. An up-and-coming voice in the city's music scene, the 22-year-old artiste is known for her ear-tickling blend of R&B, electronic and Carnatic influences.

"I found out about the inclusion about a month ago and was definitely surprised, but also knew I would perform there someday," says Mukta as she shares her excitement with calm confidence. "I'm excited to see everyone's live sets, especially Linkin Park, Playboi Carti and Opium collective. I didn't expect them, especially Playboi Carti, to come here. It's been a great year for music in India. Earlier, Asia tours and concerts meant Tokyo or Thailand, so it's great that people here are also getting to see these amazing international artistes."

Lollapalooza is the next notch in Mukta's belt after winning the Toto Award for Music and performing at festivals like NH7 Weekender and Magnetic Fields Festival. She reveals that fans can look forward to her performance with something new at Lollapalooza, saying, "I will be performing with a band for the first time and it's going to be a very high-energy set with a lot of new music."

Since graduating from college last year, Mukta has been low-key with performances, focusing on writing and recording new music. She also joined hands with Hanumankind for Cause, a track on his recent mixtape. This was her second collaboration with him, having worked with Kalmi, who produced the rapper's standout hit, Big Dawgs. "We've done this many times where Kalmi is working on something with Hanumankind, and he will ask if I want to try something out. Of course, not everything makes the cut, but this clicked," she says, adding, "I've worked with these boys since I was 17 and grown up with them. It's like an exchange of knowledge. And Hanumankind has really set the bar in terms of performance and energy – that's what I aspire to deliver."

One of the new songs possibly included in Mukta's set list is Love & Limerence, set to release on September 9. Touching on romantic relationships, a theme she has not yet explored in her music, Mukta says it still has a focus on internal conflicts evident in her previous releases, but with a more mature sound. "It's a song about how people are afraid of being mature or committing, basically criticising the superficiality of the current dating scene where everyone's trying to be super nonchalant and seeing people as being disposable because of dating apps," she explains, adding, "It's still very internal like my other songs but I would say the sound is way more mature. I've matured in my writing and my singing and Kalmi also had that in his production. Things definitely feel a little bit more refined moving forward, with this and other songs we have coming up as well."

(Tickets for Lollapalooza India are available on bookmyshow.com from ₹9,999 onwards)

Ramaiah University of Applied Sciences (RUAS), Bengaluru, and the University at Albany, State University of New York (SUNY), today announced a landmark Knowledge Partnership in the field of Nano Scale Science and Engineering. The collaboration, unveiled at SEMICON India 2025 in New Delhi, will advance academic excellence, skills development, and research innovation in India's rapidly growing semiconductor ecosystem.

As part of this partnership, RUAS will introduce specialised Certificate Programmes, delivered in collaboration with SUNY Albany, in the following areas of Semiconductor Manufacturing, Semiconductor Patterning & Processing, and Semiconductor Metrology.

The certificate programmes, designed to meet cutting-edge industry needs, will be open to students and working professionals beginning January 2026. Significantly, these graduate certificates can be completed remotely, enabling RUAS students and industry professionals in India to access SUNY Albany's globally recognised expertise without leaving the country.

The University at Albany will also provide technical support to establish a Static Nano Technology Laboratory at RUAS to train students in advanced nanotechnology techniques. Looking ahead, in the academic year 2026–27, RUAS, in partnership with SUNY Albany, will also launch a B. Tech Programme in Nano Scale Science and Engineering.

Speaking on the Knowledge Partnership, University at Albany President Havidán Rodríguez said, "International collaborations like this one with Ramaiah University are critical to the mission of a globally engaged research institution and will ensure UAlbany's excellent academic programmes in nanotechnology continue to have the broadest reach possible at a time of remarkable growth in this industry."

Dr. M.R. Jayaram, Chancellor of RUAS, who pioneered this knowledge partnership emphasised the significance of the collaboration stating, "The future of education will necessarily entail integrating human intelligence, artificial intelligence, and technology in the generation of knowledge. We must prepare ourselves for the brave new world of Nanotechnology, Robotics, and Artificial Intelligence, but one in which we build an abiding sense of ethical conduct and purposive action for the greater good. In this backdrop, the Nano Science and Technology Knowledge Partnership between Ramaiah University and UAlbany will be a pioneering pathway to advance knowledge and skills in India."

Prof. Dr. K.K. Raina, Vice Chancellor of RUAS, highlighted the industry relevance of the initiative said, "This is an important initiative that RUAS has taken to enhance excellence and achieve global standards in delivering science and technology education in India. The size of India's semiconductor industry is projected to double to as much as $110 billion by 2030. RUAS is committed to making our students and industry professionals skills-ready for this."

Is the 12-3-30 workout trend better than other treadmill routines?

- The formula here is simple: set the treadmill incline to 12 per cent, speed to 3 miles per hour, and walk for 30 minutes.
- Most people hate running, and this offers a way to sweat without pounding their joints. Walking uphill at that incline engages the glutes, hamstrings, and calves more than flat walking, and it does get your heart rate up quickly.
- But this might be too much for some people's knees and lower back. For seasoned exercisers, it can be repetitive.
- For long-term progress, whether fat loss, endurance, or strength, you'll want more variety. Mix it up with intervals, different inclines, speed changes, or hop off the treadmill entirely and add resistance training.

WORKING OUT DURING YOUR PERIOD: MYTHS, FACTS, AND WHAT REALLY HELPS

"It's that time of the month", and along with it often comes cramps, bloating, irritability, and a strong urge to curl up with a hot water bottle. Many women wonder whether working out during their period is a good idea or something best avoided. The truth is, periods are a normal physiological process, and there's no scientific reason why you cannot exercise unless your symptoms are severe. What matters most is listening to your body and making adjustments that feel right.

BUSTING COMMON MYTHS

- It is unsafe: Not true. Unless you experience unusually heavy bleeding or debilitating cramps, exercise is not harmful during your period.
- You have no energy: While estrogen and progesterone levels are low, this doesn't mean you can't exercise at all. Adjusting intensity often helps.
- You burn more calories: A persistent myth. Calories are burned during activity, not simply because of menstruation.

BENEFITS OF EXERCISING ON YOUR PERIOD

- Helps reduce PMS symptoms such as fatigue, bloating and irritability.
- Eases menstrual cramps through the release of endorphins, the body's natural pain relievers.
- Improves mood and help manage anxiety or depression.
- Offers long-term benefits such as lowering the risk of obesity, diabetes, hypertension, arthritis and even hormonal conditions like PCOS.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT WORKOUT

The best approach is to be realistic. Some days, you may feel up for a jog; on others, a short walk or restorative yoga might be more manageable. Resting when your body needs it is equally important. There's no need to push through pain or exhaustion. Consistency matters more than intensity during this phase.

WHAT TO AVOID

- Inverted yoga poses: Positions like headstands or shoulder stands may not be ideal, though evidence is limited.
- Strenuous, prolonged exercise: High-intensity workouts that add stress to your body can worsen fatigue or discomfort.
- Ignoring pain signals: If you feel pain or excessive fatigue, stop and rest.

MAXIMISING COMFORT

Choose menstrual products that fit your activity. For instance, menstrual cups work better for swimming, while pads or a combination of products may be suited for walking or gym workouts. Wear breathable, comfortable clothing and keep hydration in mind.

RECOMMENDED WORKOUTS

- Walking: Gentle, accessible, and easy to pace.
- Light cardio: Jogging, cycling, or swimming for short durations.
- Strength training: Lighter weights with controlled movements.
- Yoga or Pilates: Restorative yoga and balancing exercises to relax muscles and reduce cramps.

ODD RULES OF JORDAN FORMULA

This National Nutrition Week, nutritionists dissect the pros and cons of the much-talked-about 'Jordan Formula' and what actually helps build a healthier relationship with food

RESHMI CHAKRAVORTY

AS India observes National Nutrition Week (NNW) from September 1–7 to spread awareness on balanced diets and healthy eating practices, many of us still fall into the trap of mindless eating followed by guilt. But with a few hacks, it's possible to break this cycle. Recently, nutritionist Rujuta Diwekar shared a video on Instagram about the 'Jordan Formula', a simple method designed to help people enjoy snacks without guilt.

Breaking it down, Dr Sujatha Stephen, nutritionist, explains, "The Jordan Formula promotes mindful eating. It encourages you to pause and reassess your hunger before taking an additional portion. The idea is to listen to your body's cues and stop when you are satisfied, not uncomfortably full. It prevents overeating, reduces guilt, and nurtures a healthier relationship with food. Importantly, it's not about restricting or counting calories but about developing self-awareness and regulation."

However, not everyone is convinced. Aswini Sagar, clinical & sports nutritionist, cautions, "Most people eat too quickly or mindlessly, often driven by emotions like stress, boredom, or celebration. Hacks and tricks rarely work unless a person is truly aware and conscious. For example, the Jordan Formula suggests eating in odd numbers – 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, and so on – never in even numbers. But can't someone easily eat 2 or 3 jalebis? Or when eating biryani, a single serving itself is already too heavy – so the formula becomes impractical. These rules don't always hold up in real-life."

On potential side effects, Akhila Lakma, sports nutritionist, notes, "There are no known side effects because there's little to no scientific evidence behind it. However, it can be confusing and may make people too conscious about how much they're eating. Since it borders on restrictive eating, it may not suit pregnant or breastfeeding women, athletes, or those with clinical conditions. It could work as a portion-control hack, but mindful eating without distractions, honouring your emotions, and truly listening to your body – is more effective." What really works? Sagar stresses going back to the basics:

◆ Identify your concern: Is it overeating, unhealthy choices, binge eating, or specific cravings? Often, the root is nutritional deficiencies, sleep deprivation, hormonal imbalance, or dehydration.

◆ Address emotional mismanagement: Your relationship with food reflects your emotional and lifestyle patterns. Understanding this connection is key to long-term healthy eating.

At the end of the day, formulae may work for some as gentle reminders, but there's no shortcut to mindful eating. True nourishment comes from slowing down, paying attention to what and why we eat, and respecting both our body's needs and our emotional well-being. As National Nutrition Week reminds us, healthy eating isn't about guilt or gimmicks, it's about balance, awareness, and a sustainable relationship. with food.

YOU CAN ADDRESS EATING HABITS WITH THESE SIMPLE POINTERS:

- Address health concerns (medical and nutrition management, addressing nutritional deficiencies)
- Accept reality (stress situations) and practicality (doable changes, sustainability, economic considerations)
- Discipline (practical, non negotiable tasks): nutrition and lifestyle adaptations such as dinner before 8pm, sleep before 11pm, minimum physical activity as it suits an individual
- Emotional management: Regulating emotions, mindfulness, awareness, seeking help as needed.
- Planning: When you are in charge of your time, food, emotions, acts and thoughts, you have mastered it amazingly.
- Absolute plating disciple: This is a game changer, a non-negotiable dining rule.
- Food plating: Plate food a in particular way before starting a meal, plate and cup sizes, cutlery arrangements etc.
- Deep breaths, followed by affirmations/ prayers/gratitude before you start the meal.
- Eating posture: Sitting upright in a comfortable posture, no standing or reclining while eating.
- Eating place and environment: Peaceful place, no TV, phone distractions etc.

When surgery becomes smart, scarless and precise

DR FERDINANT J

SURGERY has always been about healing. But today, it's also about how we heal – with less pain, smaller incisions, faster recovery, and better cosmetic outcomes. One of the most exciting examples of this transformation is robotic thyroidectomy, an innovative technique that combines the power of robotics with the skill of modern surgery.

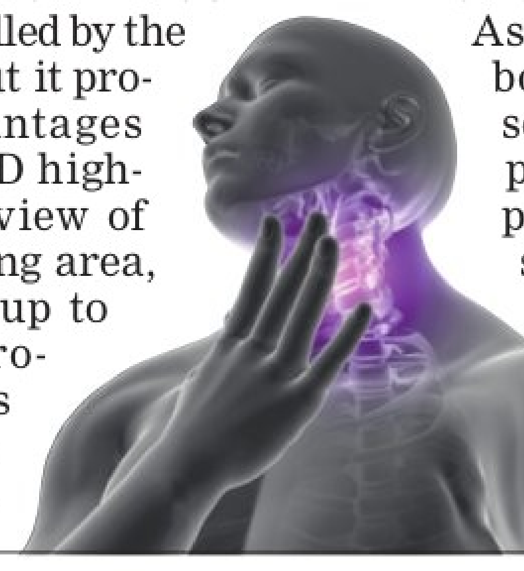
What is Robotic Thyroidectomy?

Thyroidectomy is the surgical removal of all or part of the thyroid gland – a procedure done for thyroid nodules, cancers, or goiters. Traditionally, this meant making a cut in the front of the neck. While safe and effective, it often left a visible scar.

Robotic thyroidectomy, however, is a scarless approach. Instead of operating through the neck, the surgeon accesses the thyroid through small incisions in the armpit or the chest wall. These hidden entry points allow the surgeon to reach the thyroid gland using a robotic surgical system like da Vinci Xi.

How does the robot help?

The surgical robot doesn't work on its own – it's fully controlled by the surgeon. But it provides advantages such as a 3D high-definition view of the operating area, magnified up to 10 times, robotic arms that filter out hand tremors, precision movements in tight spaces, and enhanced ability to protect vital structures All of this adds up to greater surgical accuracy, less tissue trauma, and a faster, smoother recovery.



Why choose this option?

While not every patient needs robotic surgery, for younger patients, those with cosmetic concerns, or those seeking a minimally invasive option, this offers benefits like no scarring, improved precision, and less postoperative pain in some cases.

Limitations

Robotic thyroidectomy isn't without its challenges. It requires specialised training, longer setup times, and the cost can be significant. As of now, not all thyroid conditions are suited for this. However, as technology advances, newer systems like the single-port (SP) robot may make the procedure more streamlined and accessible.

Looking ahead

Robotic thyroidectomy reflects a shift in thinking, from just 'removing disease' to enhancing the surgical experience, respecting the physical as well as emotional well-being of the patient. As awareness grows, robotic techniques may soon become standard practice. It stands as a promising option in the surgical toolkit – blending innovation with compassion, and precision with aesthetics.

'WHEN CINEMA MIRRORS LIFE, IT SPEAKS TO EVERYONE'

Tharun Kishore Sudhir

Tharun Kishore Sudhir talks about shaping real incidents into powerful stories with his latest production, Elumale, continuing his creative journey

A SHARADHAA

IN a world where filmmakers often seek to escape reality, Tharun Kishore Sudhir has chosen a different path, one that brings the complexities of real life to the big screen. Whether as a director or producer, he has consistently made bold choices that reflect his unique approach to storytelling—one rooted in authenticity, where the mundane and extraordinary collide to create films that feel grounded in truth. His latest production venture, Elumale, is no exception.

Known for his ability to blend fact with fiction, Tharun has always sought inspiration from real-life events and stories that not only captivate audiences but also challenge their perspectives. He doesn't rely on fleeting trends or speculative imagination. Instead, his creative process is deeply entwined with research, diving into archives, forgotten reports, and old newspapers to bring untold stories to life on screen. For him, this is more than a job; it's a way to connect with the world on a fundamental level.

"Cinema reflects our lives. It needs to be rooted in reality," says Tharun, echoing his belief that the most powerful stories are those that mirror the world we live in. This philosophy is central to his body of work, from Kaatera, directed by him, to Guru Sishyaru, directed by Jadeshaa K Hampi and produced by him, where real-life moments became the springboard for gripping cinematic narratives. His newest film, Elumale, due for release on September 5, continues that journey.

A still from the film

Directed by Punit Rangaswamy and starring a diverse cast including Raanna, Priyanka Achar, Jagapathi Babu, and Kishore, Elumale is inspired by a real incident from 2004 that stirred national debate; a cross-border romance between Karnataka and Tamil Nadu. The event captured widespread attention and ignited conversations about love, politics, and identity. For Tharun, the producer and creative head, this was fertile ground for storytelling.

"The idea to base the love thriller on this real event came from Punit," Tharun shares. "Once we had the storyline, we knew it was essential to dive deep into research. This wasn't about making a documentary; it was about capturing the essence of what happened while crafting a cinematic experience." While television and social media weren't as powerful in the early 2000s, Tharun and team was able to rely on newspapers' extensive archives to uncover the nuances of the story.

His commitment to historical authenticity is non-negotiable. As both producer and creative head at his production banner, Tharun Sudhir Kreatiivez, he works closely with his team, ensuring every detail adds to the realism of the film. "I'm truly excited about this project and the impact it can have," he says, a palpable energy in his voice.

Despite being inspired by real events, Elumale walks a fine line between fact and fiction. "The dates and backdrop are authentic, but we've layered in fictional elements to enhance the narrative," Tharun explains. The film unfolds across several parallel tracks, all tied to the symbolic number seven, a culturally significant motif in the region. Shot around Male Mahadeshwara, the story intertwines multiple subplots, all converging around the themes of love, conflict, and destiny. "Metaphorically, Elumale is about these intersecting tracks of human connection," Tharun explains, his words carrying the weight of the film's larger themes.

What truly sets Elumale apart is its socio-political backdrop. Set in the early 2000s, the film is situated during a volatile period marked by the Cauvery river dispute, the former Tamil Nadu CM Jayalalithaa's political ascendancy, and the shadow of the notorious bandit Veerappan. "That era had its own atmosphere of tension," Tharun notes. "Placing a love thriller within that context makes the story even more layered. Audiences will instantly recall the mood of those times."

The film's authenticity is further heightened by its cinematography and music. Advaitha Gurumurthy's raw visuals capture the gritty essence of the narrative, while D Imman's music, infused with folk influences, adds an emotional depth that transcends language barriers. The music doesn't just support the story; it becomes an emotional bridge connecting audiences across regions.

As a producer, Tharun's role is to ensure the film's creative vision is realised, but he is careful to respect the director's autonomy. "The final decision rests with the director," he says. "My job is to share my experience, offer guidance when needed, and ease the pressures on the team. If I make a suggestion, it's always for the betterment of the cinema."

When asked why he chose not to direct Elumale himself, Tharun is candid. "If I had taken it on, the scale of the film would have changed drastically," he admits. "My involvement as a director would have meant higher costs and mounting pressures. Instead, I wanted to support the project as a producer. Money has never been the driving force for me. Passion is."

For Tharun udhir, Elumale serves as a reminder that stories anchored in truth have the power to resonate across generations. "When cinema mirrors life, it speaks to everyone, and that's what makes it timeless," he concludes.

Having Sunil Shetty be part of Jai is a blessing: Roopesh Shetty

CE FEATURES

The spotlight is back on Roopesh Shetty, the Bigg Boss-fame actor-director, who is all set to return with his third directorial, Jai. The director comes back with a compelling narrative that promises to strike the perfect balance between local politics and Tulu culture. Not only is Roopesh Shetty behind the camera, but he also stars in the lead role and has contributed significantly to the script.

Sriimurali, who recently unveiled the film's teaser, couldn't hide his excitement, calling it "absolutely fantastic" and praising the collective effort of the team. He also took a moment to commend Roopesh Shetty's commitment to preserving Tulu culture in cinema. "I've been following Roopesh's journey since Bigg Boss, and it's inspiring to see him step up to such a major challenge. I wish him all the success, especially for bringing Sunil Shetty into the project," Sriimurali shared.

For Roopesh Shetty, Jai marks a monumental chapter in his career. "This is my third directorial," he said. "The film delves into local politics in coastal regions. We've made it a Tulu film, but it's also been dubbed in Kannada to reach a wider audience. Having Sunil Shetty on board is a blessing, as he's taken on a pivotal role in the film and didn't charge a penny for it, which speaks volumes about his dedication."

The film, now in post-production, is slated for a November 14 release in both Tulu and Kannada.

Actress Adhvithi Shetty, making her debut in Tulu cinema, became emotional when speaking about the film's significance to her. "This is a dream come true," she said. "My father always wanted to see me in a Tulu film, and though he's no longer with us, this feels like his blessing." Playing a journalist in the film, Adhvithi added, "The whole team has given their all to this project. We need your support to make this film a success."

A still from the film

Produced under the banner of RS Cinemas, Shoolin Films, and Mugrodi Productions, Jai was shot across three schedules. Roopesh Shetty and Venu Hasralli co-wrote the story, with renowned Tulu writer Prasanna Shetty Bailur penning the dialogues. The technical team includes Vinuth as cinematographer, music by Loy Valentine Saldanha and Rahul Vasishta as editor.

The core message of love and loyalty remains the same with Naanu Matthu Gunda sequel

Director Raghu Haasan discusses the return of the beloved story, the new cast, and why a divine animal bond transcends all, ahead of the film's release this week

CE FEATURES

THE emotional journey that captivated audiences in Naanu Matthu Gunda (2020) is set to continue as the highly anticipated sequel, Naanu Matthu Gunda 2, hits theaters nationwide this Friday. Five years after the original film's release, this heartfelt follow-up hopes to build on the profound emotional connection between humans and animals that made the first movie a success. "We've heard about the conflict, but in this divine story of a human and animal bond, we see that connection transcend," said producer and director Raghu Hassan, who also penned the story and screenplay along with Bharath Kumar. "The emotional core of the first film connected deeply with people, and we felt it was our duty to give them the next chapter," he added.

The sequel introduces new faces and a continuation of the beloved narrative. The most intriguing new element is the introduction of Shankar's (Shivaraj K R Pete) son, played by Rakesh Adiga, a role that is expected to add a new layer of depth and emotional stakes to the story.

Elaborating on the casting of Rakesh Adiga, the director revealed that the actor underwent an extensive audition process and was the perfect fit. "This character gave him a chance to break from the harsh roles he often played," Raghu Hassan mentioned. "Moreover, post-Bigg Boss, his fame has changed, and we felt this role is a perfect change of pace. He will be seen in a different light."

The film also features Rachana Inder as the female lead. The role played by Govinde Gowda, who was a close friend of Shankar in the first film, now serves as a crucial connecting point for the sequel. And of course, Simba, the Labrador canine from the first film, will be another connecting factor, introducing the new canine star, Bunty.

"Playing Shankar's son was a huge responsibility," Rakesh Adiga shared. "I had to honor the character that came before me while also creating my own path. The story is a beautiful blend of social concern and a divine element, and I'm excited for audiences to see how it all unfolds." The film also features a strong supporting cast, including veteran actors Avinash and Sadhu Kokila, along with Vijay Chendoor and Mahantesh, among others.

The film's soundtrack, composed by the acclaimed RP Pattnaik, marks his comeback after a 15-year hiatus. The songs have been praised for their ability to evoke emotion and set the stage for the film's poignant narrative. Tanvik G has handled the film's cinematography.

Produced by Raghu Hassan under the banner of Poem Pictures, with dialogues and lyrics by Rohit Raman, Naanu Matthu Gunda 2 was shot in picturesque locations, including Ooty, Shimoga, Bangalore, and parts of Tamil Nadu. The cinematography is expected to be a visual treat.

'My life is simple and boring'

AVINASH RAMACHANDRAN

A SUPERSTAR. This is a tag that is often given to many actors through the years, across generations, and in various industries. We have seen this label precede some of the biggest names of Indian cinema. It is a simple yet coveted tag that has seen many an actor give it their all and more to have it associated with them, and then some actors are just bestowed with it even if they are not pining for it. One such actor is Anuskha Shetty, and fittingly, her upcoming release, Ghaati, is about a woman who inadvertently travels down a path that makes her a legend. "It is the roles that we played that make us who we are today. People might call me a star or see me as a celebrity, but I strongly believe that it is because of the roles I played on screen. From Super to Vikramarkudu to Arundhati to Rudramadevi, and Baahubali… People remember these roles, and that's what makes me what I am today," says Anushka, who doesn't try to downplay her superstar status, but neither does she allow it to keep her down.

Q&A

A still from the film

EXCERPTS:

Anushka, this is your 20th year in the industry, and you are nearing the 50-film mark. Do you still have nerves before the release?
I have nerves in the first week of the shoot. It feels like the first day of school. I don't know how to deal with it, either. Generally, it gets better after a week. Similarly, I am petrified before and after the release, too. I thought it would have gotten better over the years, but I still have it.

Ghaati takes you to real and unexplored locations along the Andhra Pradesh-Odisha Border. Was it liberating to be back on the sets?
I really missed shooting in live locations. You can't beat those superior visuals at all. I was amazed by the beauty of our country and how all of it was still untouched. I got to taste local cuisine, and if not for Ghaati, we wouldn't even have gone to these places, right?

Did they know they were working with a superstar like you?
There was a language barrier, but I feel our equation was much beyond that. It was nice to be kind to each other just as humans, rather than it happening because I was a celebrity. But it was very nice to see all these people who are so untouched by all the glitz. They wouldn't hesitate for a second to reach out to help you with anything. Their actions came from a place of love.

It didn't come because you were a star…
Exactly, and wasn't that how we all started? It's nice to still be able to feel that love…

Be it Saroja from Vedam (Vaanam) or Sheela from Ghaati, director Krish seems to have a penchant for casting you in fascinating roles…
As an actor, you're always greedy to play all kinds of characters. But Krish gives me characters that I never envisioned playing. When he narrated Ghaati to me, this is something that I never thought would come my way. He's always pushing me beyond what I believe I can do.

But what pushes you to do such films…
The story has to excite me. It is not about the film being women-centric or having a female protagonist.
